Leslie L. Alexander

Owner

Leslie Alexander assumed ownership of the Houston Rockets on July 30, 1993, and – over the last 17 years – has devoted his efforts to making his teams champions both on the basketball court and in the community. Alexander's dedication to winning has resulted in two NBA championships with the Rockets and four WNBA titles during his 10-year (1997-2006) operation of the Houston Comets, giving Houston its first major professional sports championships. Only three other NBA teams have posted more winning seasons than the Rockets (13) during Alexander's tenure as owner. Additionally, Houston's winning percentage (.561) is the fifth best in the league over that same 17-season time frame. Off the court, the Rockets franchise has set the standard for community involvement.

"I've always believed that sports teams are in the unique position to make a real difference in their communities," Alexander said. "When I bought the Rockets, that was my dream. I hoped to make a difference for the people of Houston, both emotionally and financially."

In 2008, Forbes recognized the integral role Alexander has played in his team's success by naming him the NBA's best owner. Alexander was also named by SI.com (Sports Illustrated) as one of the five best owners in the league in 2008-09. Alexander, who has held the longest ownership tenure in franchise history, continues to strive for peak success both on and off the court.

Alexander's desire to bring Houston another championship has resulted in strategic moves to bolster the Rockets. He began by naming Daryl Morey as the successor to Carroll Dawson as general manager of the team. Alexander then went out and hired Rick Adelman as head coach. A proven winner, Adelman became just the second head coach in team history to win at least 50 games in both of his first two full seasons with the Rockets and guided Houston to the second-longest winning streak in NBA history (22 in a row: 1/29/08-3/16/08). The Rockets also posted 50-plus victories in three consecutive seasons (2006-09), marking a first in club annals.

An active participant in all phases of the team's operations, Alexander has continually proven his commitment to success. Since his arrival, he has spared no expense in engineering numerous bold moves designed to make the Rockets a perennial contender:

- In 1995, Alexander orchestrated a deal with Portland to acquire Houston native Clyde Drexler. The trade helped to deliver Houston's second consecutive title just four months later.
- In 1996, Alexander signed Hakeem Olajuwon to a long-term contract extension and obtained NBA All-Star Charles Barkley from Phoenix.
- In 1999, Alexander acquired the draft rights to Steve Francis from Vancouver.
- In 2002, the Rockets made history with the top pick in the 2002 NBA Draft by selecting Yao Ming, making him the first-ever player from an international league to be drafted first overall.
- In 2004, Alexander approved a seven-player trade with Orlando to bring in two-time NBA scoring champion Tracy McGrady.
- In 2005, Alexander signed Yao to a multi-year contract extension.
- In 2006, Alexander endorsed the acquisition of Shane Battier from Memphis.
- In 2007, Alexander hired Adelman and authorized the trade for international-star Luis Scola.
- In 2008, Alexander approved the trade for Ron Artest from Sacramento.
- In 2009, Alexander signed free agent Trevor Ariza from the L.A. Lakers.
- In 2010, Alexander authorized a three-team, nine-player trade that netted Kevin Martin from Sacramento and sent McGrady to New York. He also signed free agent Brad Miller from Chicago. Alexander then approved the acquisition of Courtney Lee from New Jersey in a four-team, five-player trade that sent Ariza to New Orleans.

Since 1993, Alexander has dedicated himself to building the Rockets in every area. His vision to construct a downtown arena took shape in Nov. 2000, as Harris County voters approved a referendum to build a new home for the Rockets. Groundbreaking for the arena took place on July 31, 2001. Alexander's tireless efforts became a reality in Sept. 2003 with the opening of Toyota Center – Houston's state-of-the-art, multi-purpose facility.

In 2010, Alexander and Toyota Center earned LEED Silver Certification for Existing Buildings: Operations & Maintenance from the U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC), making Toyota Center the first professional sports facility in Texas to receive a LEED Certification. Awarded by the USGBC under its Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design program, the certification identifies and rewards best practices by a building in areas that include energy conservation, environmental awareness, water efficiency and natural resource performance.

While Alexander's teams have enjoyed success on the basketball court, unique to the Houston franchise is its off-the-court commitment to the community. Building a better quality of life for Houstonians is a driving force for Alexander and his organization.

In 1995, Alexander established the Clutch City Foundation with the goal of providing help, hope and inspiration to those who might otherwise be forgotten. The Clutch City Foundation funds and operates comprehensive programs benefiting thousands of children each year, as well as serving as the umbrella organization for all Rockets community initiatives. Over 15 years of active community involvement has resulted in over $11 million raised for local charities, allowing the Rockets to impact tens of thousands of Houstonians each year. One of its premier fundraising events is the Clutch City Foundation Tux & Tennies Charity Gala, which has raised over $5 million since 1996. Alexander and the Clutch City Foundation have also aided international efforts spearheaded by Yao Ming and Dikembe Mutombo, committing $850,000 to help those devastated by the earthquake in China on May 12, 2008, and to assist in building the Women & Children's Center within the Biamba Marie Mutombo Hospital and Research Center located in the Democratic Republic of the Congo.

Owner

"It's so important to me that the Rockets find a way to thank the fans for their overwhelming support," Alexander said. "One way we try to do that is by reaching out to young people and those who are under-served in our community through our community programs and fundraising initiatives."

Alexander and the Rockets organization have received numerous community service awards, including the Pro Team Community Award in 1997, given by the World Sports Humanitarian Hall of Fame. The award recognizes one professional team each year that exemplifies community service and acts as a catalyst for community pride and spirit.

In 1998, Alexander's organization was awarded the Leadership Houston "Leadership in Action" Award for outstanding community service to education, one year after winning the same award for outstanding community service to youth.

Alexander and the Rockets were also honored with the 2005 Texas Association of Partners in Education "Outstanding Business Partnership" award in the Houston Independent School District (HISD). The Clutch City Foundation was also inducted into the HISD Partners Hall of Fame for understanding the value of education, as well as an active commitment to enhancing the educational experiences of HISD students.

When flooding from Tropical Storm Allison devastated the Houston area in June 2001, the franchise helped to raise over $230,000 for flood relief by auctioning off hundreds of memorabilia items, including authentic rings from each of the organization's six championships. In addition to donating all of the memorabilia for the auction along with the funds raised, Alexander, the NBA and WNBA contributed $150,000 to the flood relief effort.

Since 2002, Alexander has donated a total of $900,000 to the Houston Chronicle project, Goodfellows, which provides holiday gifts to needy children. In addition to several of the largest single contributions in the program's history, Alexander hosts an annual holiday party for the Goodfellows children and their families.

In Sept. 2005, just days after Hurricane Katrina ravaged many parts of Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi, Alexander immediately stepped in to assist the thousands of displaced residents who took shelter in Houston by organizing Houston HopeFest. The unprecedented three-day relief effort held at Toyota Center consisted of a day-long donation drive, followed by two days of providing basic humanitarian assistance, which included job skills training and placement services, housing assistance, as well as medical and counseling services.

After Hurricane Ike hit the Houston area in Sept. 2008, Alexander quickly responded to help those individuals affected by the storm. In conjunction with Feed the Children, Alexander purchased several semi-truck loads of pre-packaged, non-perishable food and basic essential toiletries. Rockets players and staff then distributed those supplies to area residents on Sept. 18, 2008. Alexander also named the Bush-Clinton Coastal Recovery Fund as a beneficiary of the 2009 Tux & Tennies Charity Gala, raising an additional $100,000 to assist with the rebuilding efforts in Houston and along the Gulf Coast.

Alexander is Chairman of the Board of the Clutch City Foundation and sits on the Board of Directors of Memorial Hermann Children's Hospital. He was also the recipient of the 2009 American Advertising Federation-Houston Trailblazer Award, which recognizes an influential business leader for enhancing the overall image of Houston through marketing. In addition, Alexander is a staunch animal-rights advocate, and founded the Evelyn Alexander Home for Animals Foundation, which strives to provide a permanent home to abandoned and abused animals. Alexander has also donated $2.5 million to the Humane Society of the United States and millions of dollars to other charitable causes worldwide.

Through the Clutch City Foundation, Alexander and his organization will continue to make a difference in the lives of Houstonians for years to come.

Chief Executive Officer

Thaddeus B. Brown

Thaddeus "Tad" Brown enters his ninth season with the organization, and his fifth as Chief Executive Officer of the Houston Rockets and Clutch City Sports & Entertainment. Brown oversees the planning and execution of all facets of the organization's business operations relating to the Rockets and Toyota Center. He also works with Owner Leslie Alexander to set strategic goals and analyze future growth opportunities for the franchise, and serves as Alexander's representative and Alternate Governor on the NBA Board of Governors.

During his tenure, Brown has been instrumental in forging strong relationships with community leaders, as well as developing and building the organization's strategic business partnerships. The business team has thrived under Brown's guidance, setting Toyota Center records for sellouts, attendance, total events and customer satisfaction. Toyota Center was also the first professional sports facility in Texas to receive a LEED Certification from the U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC). Brown's efforts to make the organization an industry leader in customer service and convenience led to the introduction of Flash Seats, an innovative paperless ticketing system that allows season ticket holders and concert goers the ability to manage their tickets online.

Brown has also served as the driving force behind the franchise's strong community outreach efforts, which have focused on charitable giving, as well as hundreds of hours of community service. He is an active member of the Houston community, serving on the Board of the Greater Houston Partnership's Opportunity Houston Committee, the Board of Central Houston, the Boys & Girls Clubs of America and the Executive Board of Houston Children's Charity, as well as numerous other business and charitable endeavors for which he represents Mr. Alexander and the organization. Brown was also named the Honorary Chairman of the 2009 World Trade Soirée, a world-class tribute to international business and the world marketplace hosted by the Greater Houston Partnership.

Before moving into his current role on Oct. 30, 2006, Brown served as Senior Vice President of Sales, Marketing & Broadcasting. During that time, he was responsible for the highly successful integration of the team's Corporate Development, Marketing, Ticket Sales, Suite Sales, Media Relations, Broadcasting and Community Relations Departments.

Prior to joining the Rockets, Brown was a Founder, and ultimately, President of Streetball Partners International. He worked closely with NBC Sports and the NBA for over a decade to build Streetball into the largest global grassroots basketball property in the world. Brown managed all sales, marketing, sponsor service, licensing and new business initiatives for Streetball. He oversaw Streetball's growth from a staff of 10 to over 250 employees worldwide during his tenure.

Brown is a graduate of Colgate University, where he was a four-year starter and three-year captain of the varsity basketball team. He and his wife, Janice, have four daughters.

Daryl Morey

Daryl Morey begins his fifth season with the Houston Rockets and his fourth as the team's head of all basketball operations. Morey, who officially assumed his current position on May 10, 2007, previously served as the team's Assistant General Manager after joining the organization on Apr. 3, 2006. He was re-signed as the team's General Manager and Managing Director Basketball Operations on Sept. 25, 2009.

Since moving into the role of General Manager, Morey has built a Rockets team that has gone a combined 150-96 (.610) over the last three seasons and has set a number of team records. Morey, who has spearheaded an innovative integration of statistical analytics into the evaluation of NBA talent, earned selection to the SportsBusiness Journal Forty Under 40 Class of 2010, which honors the most promising young executives in sports business under the age of 40. In 2010, ESPN.com named the Rockets Basketball Operations as one of the two best management teams in all of basketball. Morey's ability to manage and bolster the Rockets roster earned him YAHOO.com Executive of the Year accolades in 2008-09. In addition to earning votes for 2008-09 NBA Executive of the Year, Morey was named "Top 50 Most Influential in Basketball" in 2009 by HOOPSWORLD. Morey was also recognized in 2009 as one of "The 10 Most Creative People in Sports" by Fast Company magazine.

From 2006-07 through 2008-09, the Rockets won more regular season games (160) than in any three-year run in the history of the franchise. Houston registered a 53-29 mark in 2008-09 to give the team a third consecutive 50-win season for the first time in team annals (52-30 in 2006-07 and 55-27 in 2007-08). In the 2009 NBA Playoffs, the Rockets advanced to the Western Conference Semifinals for the first time since 1997, taking the L.A. Lakers to a Game Seven despite playing without Tracy McGrady and losing the services of Yao Ming for the final four contests of that series. In 2007-08, the Rockets won a remarkable 22 straight games, which stands as the third-longest winning streak in professional sports history.

In the offseason leading into 2010-11, Morey made Kentucky forward Patrick Patterson the 14th overall selection in the 2010 NBA Draft. He also signed free agent Brad Miller from the Chicago Bulls on July 20, 2010. Then on Aug, 11, 2010, Morey acquired Courtney Lee from the New Jersey Nets in a four-team, five-player trade that sent Trevor Ariza to the New Orleans Hornets.

The Rockets maintained their winning edge with a 42-40 mark in 2009-10, becoming the only team in the past 20 NBA seasons to finish above .500 without an All-Star. This success has all come while Morey has transformed the Houston roster into one of the most promising young teams in the league, including the NBA's 2009-10 Most Improved Player Aaron Brooks. All but two players on the current roster, Yao and Chuck Hayes, have been obtained during Morey's tenure, which included the 2010 trade-deadline acquisitions of Kevin Martin from Sacramento, and Jordan Hill, Jared Jeffries and draft considerations from New York as part of a three-team, nine-player trade that sent McGrady to the Knicks, as well as Carl Landry and Joey Dorsey to the Kings.

Despite entering the 2009 NBA Draft without a pick, Morey was able to secure the draft rights to Central Florida guard Jermaine Taylor (32nd overall) and Arizona forward Chase Budinger (44th overall). Morey then signed free agent Ariza from the L.A. Lakers. He also made a number of transactions during the 2008 NBA Draft that helped bring in Memphis forward Dorsey and Syracuse forward Donté Greene, who became a significant component in the acquisition of Ron Artest from Sacramento. During the 2008-09 season, Morey acquired guard Kyle Lowry from the Memphis Grizzlies as part of a three-team trade.

After taking over as General Manager, Morey worked with Owner Leslie Alexander to secure Rick Adelman as the 11th head coach in club history. In the 2007 NBA Draft, Morey selected Brooks in the first round (26th overall) and traded for the draft rights to Landry (31st overall). Morey then traded Vassilis Spanoulis to acquire Argentine forward Luis Scola from the San Antonio Spurs. Scola (First Team) and Landry (Second Team) each went on to earn T-Mobile NBA All-Rookie Team honors in 2007-08.

Morey came to Houston after serving three years as SVP Operations for the Boston Celtics. With the Celtics, his responsibilities included the development of analytical methods and technology to enhance basketball decisions, such as the draft, trades and free agency.

Prior to his time with the Celtics, Morey worked as a Principal consultant with an emphasis on sports at The Parthenon Group, a leading strategy consulting firm. Morey was also a statistical consultant with STATS, Inc., the industry pioneer in the use of sports statistics highlighted in the Michael Lewis book Moneyball.

Morey holds a bachelor's degree in computer science with an emphasis on statistics from Northwestern University, as well as an MBA from the MIT Sloan School of Management. Morey, who currently serves as an adjunct professor in the Sport Management Program at Rice University, was also the professor for the MIT Sloan class, "Analytical Sports Management." He continues to be a co-chair of the annual MIT Sloan Sports Conference, which is the largest annual sports conference hosted by a business school.

Morey grew up in a small town near Medina, Ohio. Married for 14 years, he and his wife have two children, ages 10 and eight years old.

Head Coach

Rick Adelman became the 11th head coach in Rockets history on May 23, 2007, returning to the bench after a season away from the NBA. In his three seasons with the Rockets, Adelman's .610 (150-96) winning percentage stands as the highest in franchise history. Overall, Adelman owns a career record of 902-577 (.610) in 19 NBA seasons as a head coach with the Portland Trail Blazers (1988-94), Golden State Warriors (1995-97), Sacramento Kings (1998-2006) and Houston Rockets (2007-10). He has recorded the fifth most wins among active NBA coaches behind Jerry Sloan (Utah), Larry Brown (Charlotte), Phil Jackson (L.A. Lakers) and George Karl (Denver). Adelman, who stands as one of only five head coaches in league history to win 60 or more games with two different teams, became just the 11th coach in NBA history to notch 900 career victories (113-96 win on 4/7/10 vs. Utah). He also holds a career 79-78 (.503) mark in the postseason, including a 9-10 (.474) record with the Rockets. Adelman's teams have qualified for the playoffs 16 times in his 19 seasons.

A winner throughout his career, Adelman is known around the league as a basketball teacher with an ability to mold a team's style of play around the strengths of his players. Adelman's coaching highlights include a pair of NBA Finals appearances (1990 and 1992 with Portland), four trips to the Western Conference Finals (1990-92 with Portland and 2002 with Sacramento) and four division titles (1990-91 and 1991-92 with Portland; 2001-02 and 2002-03 with Sacramento). He has been runner-up for NBA Coach of the Year honors four times (1990-91 with Portland; 2000-01 and 2001-02 with Sacramento; 2008-09 with Houston). Adelman has also coached the West Team in the NBA All-Star Game on three separate occasions (1991 with Portland; 2001 and 2003 with Sacramento). Overall, Adelman has been named NBA Coach of the Month seven times over his career (three with Portland, two with Sacramento and two with Houston).

Adelman's trademark offenses have finished among the top-five in the NBA in scoring on 12 occasions over his head coaching career. He has had four additional teams rank in the top-10 in points per game (one with Houston). His teams have also shown a great balance on the defensive end of the floor. When matched with pace of play, Adelman has had seven squads (four with Portland, one with Sacramento and two with Houston) finish in the top-five in scoring defense.

Despite playing the entire season without Yao Ming (foot surgery), Adelman guided Houston to a 42-40 (.512) record in 2009-10, marking just the 26th time in NBA history for a team to finish a season with a winning record and not make the playoffs. The Rockets were eighth in the NBA in scoring with an average of 102.4 points per game in 2009-10, which was their best offensive output since 1995-96 (102.5 ppg). Houston also reached the century mark in points in 10 consecutive games (10/28/09-11/17/09), marking the longest single-season streak for the Rockets since a 12-game run back in 1995-96 (11/26/95-12/19/95). Defensively, the 2009-10 Rockets forced at least 20 turnovers in eight games and finish among the league leaders in points off turnovers (16.9 ppg). In addition, Adelman surpassed Jack Ramsay (864) into 11th on the NBA's all-time list for regular season coaching wins with a 104-79 victory vs. Memphis (11/11/09).

Adelman guided the 2008-09 Rockets to a 53-29 (.646) mark, giving Houston a third consecutive 50-win season for the first time in club annals (52-30 in 2006-07 and 55-27 in 2007-08). He became just the second head coach in team history to win at least 50 games in both of his first two full seasons with the Rockets. Houston averaged 98.4 points per contest and remained among the elite defensive squads in the NBA, finishing seventh in the league in points allowed per game (94.4). Adelman's 2008-09 squad also ranked fifth in the NBA in free throw percentage (.805) and fourth in the league in rebounds per game (43.0).

During his second campaign in Houston, Adelman surpassed Cotton Fitzsimmons (832) for 12th on the NBA's all-time list for regular season coaching wins with a 115-113 victory vs. Denver (1/19/09). He earned his 100th victory as Rockets head coach in a 106-101 double-overtime win vs. Detroit (3/18/09). Adelman was named Western Conference Coach of the Month for Mar. 2009, guiding the Rockets to the best winning percentage in the West during that month (.733, 11-4 record). It marked his second time to earn Western Conference Coach of the Month with Houston (Feb. 2008), joining Rudy Tomjanovich (three times) and Don Chaney (two times) as the only Rockets coaches to win this award multiple times. Adelman also moved ahead of Chuck Daly (75) and Nelson (75) into ninth on the NBA's all-time list for postseason coaching wins, guiding the Rockets to a 7-6 (.538) finish in his second postseason with Houston. The Rockets recorded a 92-76 win in Game Six vs. Portland (4/30/09) to take their First Round series 4-2, which marked Houston's first series win since the 1997 NBA Playoffs. Adelman and company then took the L.A. Lakers to a Game Seven despite playing without Tracy McGrady and losing the services of Yao for the final four contests of that series.

In his first campaign, Adelman led the 2007-08 Rockets to a 55-27 (.671) record to match the third-best win total in franchise history. Adelman also became the 13th head coach in NBA annals to notch 800 career victories with Houston's 108-100 win vs. Sacramento (3/24/08). His 2007-08 squad was the first in club chronicles to record three consecutive months of double-digit win totals (10-4 Jan., 13-0 Feb. and 11-4 Mar.).

Houston actually captured 22 victories in a row (1/29/08-3/16/08) during the 2007-08 campaign, which stands as the second-longest winning streak in NBA history. The 22-game run by the Rockets marked the second time Adelman has guided a team to at least 16 consecutive victories. His Trail Blazers also took 16 straight back in 1990-91 (3/20/91-4/19/91). During this historic streak, the Rockets equaled the all-time league record for consecutive wins by a double-digit margin (10 from 2/21/08-3/10/08), including eight straight victories by 12 or more points (2/21/08-3/6/08). Adelman's Rockets finished 13-0 in Feb., marking just the second time in team history to complete a full month with a perfect mark (14-0 in Nov. 1993). Houston added 12 consecutive wins away from Toyota Center (1/4/08-3/12/08), marking the longest road winning streak in club records.

Head Coach

While transitioning his team to a new offensive scheme, the Rockets continued to rely on their core strength of defense in 2007-08. Houston ranked fourth in the NBA in points allowed per game (92.0) and second in field goal percentage defense (.433). The Rockets also finished first in the NBA in total rebounds per game (44.6).

Prior to joining the Rockets, Adelman recorded a 395-229 (.633) record in eight seasons as head coach of the Kings. He guided Sacramento to playoff appearances in each of his eight campaigns, compiling a 34-35 (.493) mark in the postseason. Sacramento won 50 or more games in five consecutive seasons (2000-01 through 2004-05) under his leadership, including back-to-back Pacific Division titles in 2001-02 and 2002-03. Adelman became the winningest coach in Kings franchise history with a 94-92 victory at Indiana (3/19/04), surpassing Les Harrison (295) on the team's all-time wins list.

Adelman signed on as the 19th head coach of the Kings on Sept. 17, 1998, inheriting a team that had won only 27 games in 1997-98. The Kings went on to finish with a record above .500 in all eight seasons under his direction. Sacramento's climb to 61 victories in 2001-02 marked a 34-win improvement over a four-year span, which was the highest jump among NBA teams during that time frame. Prior to Adelman's arrival, no Sac-era Kings squad had registered a winning record, which dated back to 1985-86.

While in Sacramento, Adelman turned the Kings into the highest scoring team in the league by going from an average of 93.1 points per game in 1997-98 to an average of 100.2 points in 1998-99, despite the league average dipping from 95.6 points per outing to 91.6 over the same span. Sacramento continued to increase its scoring to a league-best 105.0 points per game in 1999-2000. Overall, the Kings topped the NBA in scoring for three straight seasons (1998-99 through 2000-01). Sacramento had its streak snapped by finishing second in the league in scoring in 2001-02 (104.6), but still advanced to the Western Conference Finals.

In his first season with the Warriors in 1995-96, Adelman's influence helped Golden State reduce its points allowed from 111.1 per game to 103.1, which marked the fewest for the franchise in 20 years. In addition, the 1995-96 Warriors outrebounded their opponents (3,458-3,406) for only the second time in 14 seasons. Adelman also reached the career 300-win mark in just 468 games, which at the time was the seventh fastest in NBA history. His 1996-97 Golden State team also improved from 13th to ninth in the NBA in scoring.

Adelman joined Portland's staff in 1983 under Ramsay and served as an assistant coach until Feb. 18, 1989, replacing Mike Schuler as head coach. In nearly six seasons at the helm of the Trail Blazers, Adelman racked up a record of 291-154 (.654) in the regular season and a 36-33 (.522) mark in the postseason. He twice coached the Trail Blazers into the NBA Finals, qualifying Portland for the playoffs in all six of his seasons. He also led the Trail Blazers to four consecutive 50-plus win campaigns. Adelman still ranks as the second winningest coach in franchise history behind Ramsay.

In his first full season as head coach in 1989-90, Adelman guided the Trail Blazers to a 59-23 record and a trip to the NBA Finals. The following season, Portland won the Pacific Division title behind a league-best mark of 63-19, advancing to the 1991 Western Conference Finals. In 1991-92, the Trail Blazers captured their second straight Pacific Division crown with a 57-25 record and went to the NBA Finals for the second time in three seasons. Adelman recorded his 200th victory in just the 288th game of his career in a 115-90 win vs. Detroit (11/22/92). At the time, no coach in league history had reached the 200-win plateau in fewer games.

Adelman began his coaching career at Chemeketa Community College in Salem, Oregon, where his teams amassed a 141-39 record over six seasons (1977-83). Chemeketa won or shared in three Oregon community college championships and one regional title.

As a player, Adelman spent seven seasons in the NBA with the San Diego Rockets, Portland Trail Blazers, Chicago Bulls, New Orleans Jazz and Kansas City-Omaha Kings. Selected by the Rockets in the seventh round (79th overall) of the 1968 NBA Draft, the 6-foot-2 guard averaged 6.7 points, 3.1 assists and 2.7 rebounds in two seasons as a reserve in San Diego. Adelman was taken by Portland in the 1970 NBA Expansion Draft and was made the first team captain in Trail Blazers history. Adelman actually got his first taste of coaching experience during the 1970-71 NBA season when he led Portland to a victory after coach Rolland Todd was ejected from the game. Traded by the Trail Blazers to the Bulls prior to the 1973-74 campaign, Adelman was again dealt to the Jazz early in the 1974-75 season. Looking for veteran leadership in their run to the 1975 NBA Playoffs, the Kings made a late-season acquisition to obtain Adelman. He retired in 1975 with career averages of 7.7 points, 3.5 assists and 2.4 rebounds in 462 regular season games.

Adelman began his playing career at St. Pius X High School in Downey, California, before attending Loyola Marymount in Los Angeles, where he was named MVP of the West Coast Athletic Conference as a senior in 1967-68. After retiring from the NBA, he returned to Loyola to earn a master's degree in history and then worked for Converse in Southern California for a year.

A native of Lynwood, California, Adelman is a devoted family man and community leader. He and his wife, Mary Kay, who have been married for over 40 years, enjoy playing golf and tennis, as well as spending time with their six children: Kathy and her husband, John, R.J., Laura and her husband, Chris, David, Caitlin and Patrick; and seven grandchildren: Mary Kay, Anna, Mackenzie, Emilie, Madison, Zachary and Tyler. The entire Adelman family has always shown a great commitment to the community, working closely with local church and charitable organizations. In 2000, Chemeketa Community College honored Adelman by presenting him with the Gwen VanDenBosch Volunteer of the Year Award for his tireless fundraising efforts through his annual Rick Adelman Golf Classic. Each year, the golf tournament provides scholarship funds for a male and female member of the Chemeketa basketball teams.

Elston Turner
Assistant Coach

Elston Turner begins his fourth season as an assistant coach with the Houston Rockets. He also serves as the head coach of Houston's summer league team. Before coming to the Rockets, Turner spent six seasons as an assistant coach on Rick Adelman's staff in Sacramento, serving the final two campaigns as the lead assistant.

With the Kings, Turner's responsibilities included handling the team's game plan, individual skill work with players and advance scouting. Turner and the Kings coaching staff also helped Adelman coach the Western Conference All-Star Team in the 2001 NBA All-Star Game in Washington and the 2003 NBA All-Star Game in Atlanta.

Turner joined the Kings after spending four years in a similar capacity with the Portland Trail Blazers. He began his coaching career in the CBA as an assistant coach for the Quad City Thunder and as a player/coach with the Chicago Rockers.

As a 6-foot-5 guard, Turner was noted for his defensive tenacity in eight seasons with the Dallas Mavericks (1981-82, 1982-83 and 1983-84), Denver Nuggets (1984-85, 1985-86 and 1988-89) and Chicago Bulls (1986-87 and 1987-88). Overall, Turner averaged 4.7 points, 2.7 rebounds and 1.8 assists in 505 career games in the NBA. He also played parts of five seasons in the CBA and three years in Europe following his NBA career.

Turner was selected by Dallas in the second round (43rd overall) of the 1981 NBA Draft after a standout collegiate career at the University of Mississippi. As a senior (1980-81), Turner led Ole Miss to its first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance. His collegiate accomplishments were honored in 2000 when he was inducted into the Ole Miss M-Club Athletic Hall of Fame.

Born and raised in Knoxville, Tennessee, Turner and his wife, Louise, have two children; son, Elston Jr. and daughter, Taylor.

Jack Sikma
Assistant Coach

Jack Sikma enters his fourth season as an assistant coach with the Houston Rockets after spending four seasons on the Seattle SuperSonics coaching staff. A former Sonics center, Sikma rejoined Seattle as a special assignments coach prior to the 2003-04 season. He was promoted to assistant coach following that campaign.

In 14 seasons as a player in the NBA, Sikma averaged 15.6 points and 9.8 rebounds in 1,107 games with Seattle and the Milwaukee Bucks. A seven-time NBA All-Star, Sikma was also named to the 1977-78 NBA All-Rookie Team and earned 1981-82 NBA All-Defense Second Team accolades.

A 6-foot-11 product of Illinois Wesleyan University, Sikma was selected by the Sonics with the eighth overall pick of the 1977 NBA Draft. Sikma became just the third Sonics player to grab 1,000 rebounds in a season when he pulled down 1,013 boards in 1978-79. He used his tenacity on the glass to help carry Seattle into the playoffs, saving his best for the 1979 NBA Finals against the Washington Bullets when he grabbed 17 rebounds in each of Games Three, Four and Five to help the Sonics capture the league title.

When Sikma was traded to Milwaukee in 1986, he left the Sonics having registered more rebounds (7,729), blocked shots (705) and free throws made (3,044) than any prior player in team history. He still holds the team's career marks for rebounds and free throws made, while ranking second in blocked shots, third in points (12,034) and fourth in games played (715).

Sikma retired from playing after the 1990-91 season and returned to the Seattle area. His jersey #43 was retired by the franchise during a halftime ceremony of a Sonics vs. Detroit Pistons game on Nov. 21, 1992.

Born on Nov. 14, 1955, in Kankakee, Illinois, he and his wife, Shawn, have three sons, Jacob, Lucas and Nathan.

T.R. Dunn
Assistant Coach

T.R. Dunn begins his fourth season on the Houston Rockets coaching staff after three campaigns as an assistant coach for the Sacramento Kings. His first two seasons in Sacramento came as a member of Rick Adelman's staff.

Prior to joining the Kings, Dunn spent two seasons (2002-04) as an assistant coach for the Denver Nuggets. In 2001-02, Dunn worked as an assistant coach at his alma mater, the University of Alabama. Prior to that, he coached in the WNBA for the Charlotte Sting, serving as head coach in 2000 and as an assistant coach during the 1999 season. Dunn also served a prior stint as an assistant for the Nuggets in 1997-98 and was an assistant coach for the Charlotte Hornets from 1991-97.

During his 14-year NBA playing career, Dunn was regarded as one of the premiere defensive players of his time. He was named to the NBA's All-Defensive Second Team three times (1983-85) and was considered one of the top rebounding guards in the NBA throughout his career. He missed just six games due to injury over a 10-year span (1978-88), finishing with career averages of 5.1 points, 4.4 rebounds and 1.6 assists in 993 regular season games. Drafted by Portland with the 41st overall pick of the 1977 NBA Draft, Dunn spent his first three campaigns with the Trail Blazers before being traded to Denver. He also played one season with the Phoenix Suns (1988-89) before returning to the Nuggets for his final two years.

In 10 seasons as a member of the Nuggets (1980-88 and 1989-91), Dunn scored 3,585 points and became a mainstay in the franchise's record books. He still ranks second all-time in steals (1,070), fourth in games played (734) and fifth in minutes played (18,322). In the playoffs, Dunn recorded 238 career points for the Nuggets and tied for the most steals in a single game (7 vs. Portland on 4/20/86). Dunn still ranks first in steals (83), second in games played (58), second in offensive rebounds (119) and fifth in total rebounds (287) in Denver's postseason history.

A four-year letterman at Alabama from 1973-77, Dunn finished his collegiate career with a scoring average of 11.2 points per game. Theodore Roosevelt Dunn and his wife, Cynthia, have two sons, Schmohn and Keenan.

R.J. Adelman
Assistant Coach

R.J. Adelman enters his fourth season as an assistant coach for the Houston Rockets. In addition to his coaching duties, Adelman assists the team's advance scouting operations.

Before coming to Houston, Adelman worked as an NBA advance scout for the Seattle SuperSonics. He also served five years as a scout for the Sacramento Kings, including the final three seasons as assistant video coordinator in the Basketball Operations Department.

He joined Maloof Sports and Entertainment after practicing law in Portland, Oregon, working in private practice and as a real estate lawyer for GMAC Mortgage.

Adelman was a four-year letterman in basketball at Willamette University in Salem, Oregon, which won the NAIA Division II National Championship in 1993. After completing his bachelor's degree in political science from Willamette in 1995, Adelman earned his law degree from the University of Oregon in 2001.

Pat Zipfel
Assistant Coach/Advance Scout

Pat Zipfel enters his fourth season with the Houston Rockets as an advance scout, adding assistant coach to his title prior to the 2009-10 season. Zipfel, who was named to the NBA Coaches Association Technology Committee in 2010, is directly responsible for scouting upcoming opponents.

Zipfel came to Houston after serving three seasons as an advance scout with the Portland Trail Blazers. He also spent three years as an advance scout for the L.A. Clippers.

Before joining the Trail Blazers, Zipfel spent the 2003-04 season as head coach of the New Jersey Squires (ABA), leading the Squires into the ABA Quarterfinals where they were defeated by the Kansas City Knights. He was also Director of Athletics and Head men's basketball coach at Centenary College (NJ), as well as serving as head coach at Bucks County College (PA) and served as an NCAA Division I assistant coach at The Citadel for three seasons. Zipfel still holds the most wins in a single season in Centenary history and led the Cyclones to their only postseason appearance in the 1990s.

Zipfel played at Cabrini College (PA), which holds the distinction of being one of the winningest NCAA Div. III basketball programs in the country. He owns a bachelor's degree in English/Communications.

A native of Staten Island, New York, he and wife, Angela, have two children, Megan and Aidan.

Carroll Dawson
Senior Consultant

Carroll Dawson, affectionately known as "CD," currently serves as a Senior Consultant for the Houston Rockets. He completed his 11th and final season as General Manager of the franchise in 2006-07. Prior to moving into the front office on July 26, 1996, Dawson worked as an assistant coach under four Rockets head coaches, aiding Del Harris from 1980-83, Bill Fitch from 1983-88, Don Chaney from 1988-92 and Rudy Tomjanovich from 1992-96.

Dawson was honored by Rockets Owner Leslie Alexander with "Carroll Dawson Tribute Night" on April 16, 2007, where a banner bearing his name was hung from the rafters of Toyota Center in honor of Dawson's 27 seasons with the Rockets organization as General Manager and as an assistant coach.

Recognized as one of the top executives in the NBA, Dawson finished second in voting for The Sporting News NBA Executive of the Year in 2006-07. As General Manager, Dawson showed the ability to both bolster a playoff contender with veterans and acquire emerging talent as part of a youth movement. In his role of assistant coach, Dawson holds the distinction of being the only person on the coaching staffs of all four Rockets teams that advanced to the NBA Finals (1981, 1986, 1994 and 1995). He was also credited with teaching Hakeem Olajuwon his famous jump hook.

A native Texan, Dawson hails from Alba, a town with a population of 200 that sits about 75 miles east of Dallas. He resides in Houston with his wife, Sharon. Sharon has a daughter, Elizabeth, and a son, Michael. (For more information on Dawson, see page 156).

Sam Hinkie
Executive Vice President of Basketball Operations

Sam Hinkie enters his sixth full season with the Houston Rockets and serves as Executive Vice President of Basketball Operations. Hinkie, who was named the youngest Vice President in the NBA in 2007, was promoted to Executive Vice President in 2010. Prior to 2007, Hinkie served two seasons as Special Assistant to the General Manager where he worked with former GM Carroll Dawson.

In his current role, Hinkie works closely with General Manager and Managing Director of Basketball Operations Daryl Morey on the draft, free agency, trades and game strategy. He also leads the Rockets considerable analytic efforts, provides day-to-day management of basketball operations and manages the team's salary cap. Hinkie also scouts potential Rockets by evaluating prospects in person across the collegiate and professional ranks, including the NBA, international basketball, and the minor leagues.

From 2006-07 through 2008-09, the Rockets won more regular season games (160) than in any three-year run in the prior 42-year history of the franchise, including a historic 22-game winning streak. The flexibility built into the team's roster management allowed the Rockets to weather consistent injuries to perennial All-Stars Yao Ming and Tracy McGrady in each of those three seasons (140 missed games in all). In 2009-10, although their two All-Stars played only a combined 46 minutes for the season, the Rockets again managed to win more than half of their games. The Rockets experienced significant contributions of 18-plus minutes per game from less-heralded late first-round draft picks and second-round draft picks including, amongst others, 2009-10 NBA Most Improved Player Aaron Brooks (picked 26th), Kyle Lowry (picked 24th – acquired via trade), second round selection Carl Landry (picked 31st – rights acquired on draft night via trade), Chase Budinger (picked 44th – rights acquired on draft night via trade), Luis Scola (picked 56th – rights acquired via trade), and undrafted Chuck Hayes (started all 82 games at center in 2009-10).

In addition to his duties with the Rockets, Hinkie and the rest of the Houston front office turned their lens toward minor league basketball with the first relationship of its kind where an NBA front office managed the basketball operations of an NBA D-League team. Under the direction of Rio Grande Valley General Manager Gersson Rosas, the Vipers finished the 2009-10 season with the league's second-best record, the D-League MVP (Mike Harris), the D-League Coach of the Year (Chris Finch), a record number of NBA Call-Ups in a season (10), four players named to the All-NBA D-League Teams, and capped off the franchise's first-ever playoff appearance by winning the D-League championship.

Before joining the Rockets, Hinkie advised two NFL teams on draft strategies and ways to use statistical analysis to improve decision making. Hinkie previously worked for Bain & Company, a global strategy consulting firm. In addition, he has experience in private equity and venture capital where he led diligence teams and provided strategic direction for his firm's investment companies.

Hinkie serves on the Advisory Board of KIPP, an innovative charter school focused on disadvantaged children in urban communities. Hinkie, who is married and has two boys, graduated summa cum laude from the University of Oklahoma and was named one of the top-60 undergraduate students in the nation by USA Today. He also holds an MBA from Stanford, graduating with highest honors as an Arjay Miller Scholar.

Keith Jones

Senior Vice President of Basketball Operations/Athletic Trainer

Keith Jones will be entering his 22nd season in professional basketball and his 15th as athletic trainer with the Houston Rockets. Jones, who was promoted to Senior Vice President of Basketball Operations/Athletic Trainer on Sept. 5, 2007, oversees player relations and basketball operations for the Rockets, including all team travel arrangements, the equipment staff, strength and conditioning, as well as treatment and rehabilitation of the players.

Jones became the fourth athletic trainer in franchise history when he joined the Rockets on July 23, 1996. His peers voted him the NBA Trainer of the Year in 2001. During the summer of 2002, Jones was elevated to the title of Vice President of Basketball Operations/Athletic Trainer after three seasons of holding player liaison responsibilities.

During the 2008 Summer Olympics, Jones served as a team athletic trainer for the 2008 U.S. Men's Olympic Team (8-0) that captured the gold medal in Beijing, China. It marked the seventh time Jones has performed these duties for a U.S. National Team. He has also served in the same capacity for USA Basketball at the 1998 World Championship of Basketball in Greece, during the 1999 Tournament of the Americas in Puerto Rico, with the gold-medal-winning Senior National Team during the 2000 Summer Olympics in Sydney, Australia, at the FIBA Americas World Championship Qualifier 2005 in the Dominican Republic, during the 2006 World Championship in Japan and with the gold-medal-winning USA Men's Senior National Team (10-0) during the FIBA Americas Championship 2007 in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Prior to joining the Rockets, Jones spent six seasons with the Los Angeles Clippers. When hired by the Clippers in June 1990, he became the first African-American, as well as the youngest trainer in the NBA at age 28. Jones got his start in the NBA in 1988 as the assistant trainer for the Orlando Magic, joining the Clippers the following season when their head trainer position opened.

Jones began his career in athletic training at the University of Arkansas, working as a student trainer for Lou Holtz's football and Eddie Sutton's basketball teams for four years. He interned with the Philadelphia Eagles as an athletic trainer during his college summers and worked as their full-time assistant trainer during the 1983 season. Upon leaving Philadelphia, Jones spent two seasons with the Oklahoma/Arizona Outlaws of the USFL. He eventually rejoined Holtz at the University of Minnesota as the football trainer in 1987 before moving to the NBA.

He and his wife, Madge, reside in Missouri City. The couple has two daughters, Morgan and Alex, and a son, Isaiah.

Gersson Rosas

VP of Player Personnel/GM Rio Grande Valley Vipers

Gersson Rosas enters his seventh season with the Houston Rockets and his second as Vice President of Player Personnel. In 2008-09, Rosas served as Houston's Director of Player Personnel after working a season as the team's Director of Scouting and three seasons as the team's Personnel Scout/Video Coordinator.

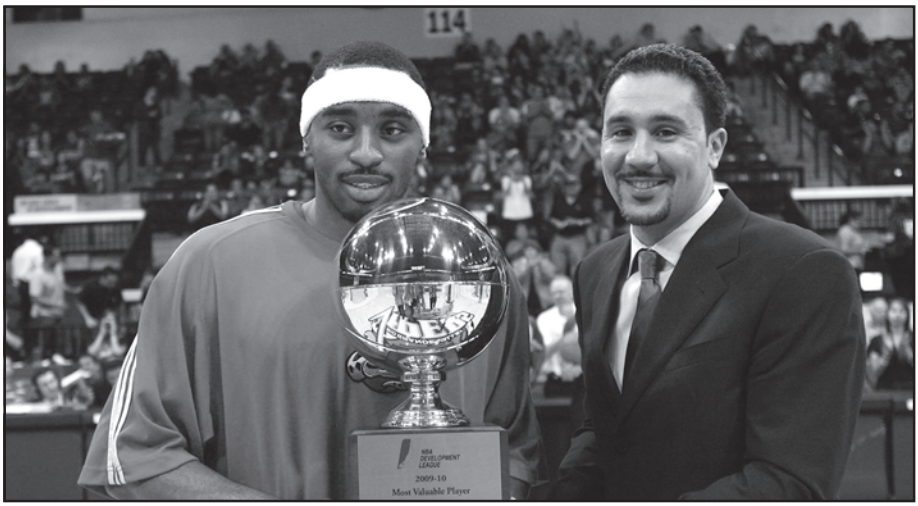
In his current position, Rosas assists General Manager and Managing Director of Basketball Operations Daryl Morey in all basketball operations of the franchise and is responsible for the team's player personnel matters, including the evaluation of draft prospects, free agents and potential trade targets. In addition, he oversees the domestic and international scouting departments, while also assisting in the coordination of the team's Player Development program.

In addition to his duties with the Rockets, Rosas serves as the General Manager for the Rio Grande Valley Vipers, which is Houston's single-affiliation NBA D-League partner. In his first season as Rio Grande Valley's GM, the Vipers won the 2009-10 NBA Development League championship. Vipers forward Mike Harris was named the 2009-10 NBA D-League's Most Valuable Player, while Head Coach Chris Finch took home the Dennis Johnson Coach of the Year Award. In addition, Rio Grande Valley broke the NBA D-League single-season record for Call-Ups to the NBA in 2009-10 with 10, including Mike Harris, Garrett Temple and Will Conroy signing with the Rockets.

Prior to his present stint with the Rockets, Rosas was the head coach of the Global Games Prep USA Team during the summer of 2004. Rosas' experience also includes work as a graduate assistant for the men's basketball team at the University of Houston (2003-04), as an assistant coach on Westbury Christian High School's state championship team (2002-03) and as a basketball coordinator for the Venezuelan Basketball Federation during the 2002 World Basketball Championships. Rosas, who previously served as an intern in basketball operations for the Rockets in 2001-02, got his start in professional basketball working with Baseline Sports Agency and McNeil Sports Group, contributing in the areas of scouting and player development for each firm.

Rosas is a member of the Westbury Christian School Advisory Board and a strong supporter of the Charlie Ward Tribute to Excellence Award program, which benefits the WCS Athletic Facilities Campaign. In addition, he has been an active participant in the NBA's Basketball Without Borders program, the NBA's global basketball development and community outreach program (2006-10), which included serving as the Americas Camp Director in Mexico City in the summer of 2009. Rosas also served as director of college counselors at RBKU All-American Camp (2007, 2008) and as camp coach at the Reebok ABCD Camp (2006, 2007).

A native of Bogotá, Colombia, South America, Rosas graduated cum laude from the University of Houston with a bachelor's degree in marketing. He and his wife, Susana, reside in Houston.



Rio Grande Valley forward Mike Harris receives the NBA D-League 2009-10 MVP Award from D-League President Dan Reed.

In his role, Manley is charged with overseeing all aspects of arena and facility operations, guest relations and security services. Manley, who joined the team in May 2003 as Guest Services Manager, also served as Director of Event Operations where he oversaw all aspects of event and guest services.

Prior to joining the Rockets, Manley spent two seasons with the Carolina Panthers as an event staffing contractor. He also spent five years doing event contracting for 15 different venues throughout North Carolina and South Carolina.

Manley graduated from the University of North Carolina-Charlotte with a degree in sociology. Manley resides in his hometown of Houston with his wife, Cami and his son, Cole.

Amanda Strudler

Assistant General Manager of Toyota Center/ Senior Director of Booking and Event Operations

Amanda Strudler begins her sixth season with the organization. As Assistant General Manager of Toyota Center/Senior Director of Booking and Event Operations, Strudler oversee all Toyota Center booking and event marketing. Since joining the organization in Jan. 2006, her responsibilities have included the booking, marketing, communications, third-party sponsorship and group sales of Toyota Center concerts, family shows and other specialty events.

Prior to joining the organization, Strudler was a concert promoter for Clear Channel Entertainment (Pace Concerts, Ltd.) for five years. During her time with Pace, Strudler booked various venues, including theaters, arenas and amphitheaters throughout Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas.

A native Houstonian, Strudler graduated from Kingwood High School. She received her bachelor's degree in computer science and mathematics from the School of Engineering at Vanderbilt University.

Clutch
"The Rockets Bear"

Since bursting onto the scene in 1995, Clutch the Bear has become one of the most celebrated mascots in sports. With his imaginative skits and mischievous antics, Clutch personifies NBA entertainment at its best. Clutch also enjoys inspiring Houston youth to make future-oriented decisions by performing over 100 annual Building A Future Elementary School Shows.

Named the 5th most recognizable mascot in sports by The USA Today in Feb. 2005, Clutch is the Houston Rockets number one fan and can be seen cheering on his team at all Rockets home games. Whether he is creating impromptu comedy, cheerleading, signing autographs, dancing with the Power Dancers, doling out hugs, or performing on-court skits, Clutch is always a fan favorite. While Clutch loves entertaining fans at Toyota Center, he also makes close to 300 appearances each year, visiting fans in Houston and around the world. In addition to being an accomplished performer, the character has also authored five children's books, which are distributed at school shows and appearances city-wide. Clutch was named the first-ever NBA Mascot of the Year in 2005 and was inducted into the Mascot Hall of Fame in 2006. In Feb. 2009, Clutch had a story published in Chicken Soup for the Soul: Inside Basketball, which is available in bookstores nationwide. This ostentatious Houston icon also brought home the 2009 NBA Mascot Leadership Award. In August 2010, Clutch hosted his first annual Fantasy Mascot Camp at Toyota Center, which was attended by 30 mascot performers from the high school, collegiate, minor league, corporate and professional ranks. Among other topics, the performer coached on character development and non-verbal storytelling and plans to hold the camp yearly. You can schedule Clutch for an appearance by calling (713) 758-7347.

Rockets Power Dancers

The Rockets Power Dancers have long been fan favorites at Rockets games and in the Greater Houston area for their tremendous energy, show-stopping routines and love for the game. This world-class dance team has inspired Rockets fans in cheering for the home team since the 1994-95 season. Led by coach and choreographer, "Sweet Susie" Boudwin, the 22-member squad of business professionals, teachers and students performs at all home games and at numerous community, corporate and private events. The dancers join with the Rockets players, coaches and business team to help make a difference in the lives of children in the local community. In addition to the time they spend with fans at local events, in recent years, the Power Dancers have also been proud to represent the Rockets at the NBA All-Star Game, as well as at international events throughout mainland China, Hong Kong, the Philippines, Taiwan, Bosnia, Kosovo and the United Kingdom. Several of the Power Dancers are also skilled slam dunkers, making up the very popular Dunking Dancer squad. These versatile ladies have been featured on SportsCenter, CNN, Fox and FSN, as well as in Sports Illustrated, Maxim and Complex magazines.

Rockets Entertainers

Rockets Launch Crew
The Rockets Launch Crew took off in 2004-05 and hasn't looked back. This group of talented tumblers, breakers, cheer stunters and jump ropers are the best in the business. You can see them performing explosive routines, running flags across the court, throwing t-shirts to fans, and helping with on-court contests, all while bringing their special brand of spirit. The Launch Crew team members show their skills at all home games, performing during timeouts and energizing the crowd at clutch moments in the game. They also make numerous community and corporate appearances throughout the year.

Rockets Little Dippers Dance Team
The Little Dippers are the cutest addition to Rockets game entertainment. This coed squad of talented kids, ages 6-14, debuted in 2006-07 and was an immediate hit. The group of all-star kids from all over Houston perform hip-hop, jazz and novelty dance routines at weekend and special games throughout the year. Their energetic performances include tumbling, stunting and breaking, as well as dance – always bring the crowd to its feet. The Little Dippers also love to participate in the entire Rockets game experience, whether greeting fans as they enter Toyota Center or helping with contests and giveaways throughout the game.

Rockets Space City Seniors
The Space City Seniors are the newest performance group for the Rockets. Consisting of several "young at heart" retirees, these seniors wow Toyota Center crowds on a regular basis with their current and old-school hip hop moves. Their high energy and enthusiasm for dance and the Rockets are unmatched in the NBA.

Rockets on the Radio

All Houston Rockets games are broadcast on the team's six-station radio network, with KILT SportsRadio 610 AM serving as the flagship station. All contests are also broadcast in Spanish on KEYH 850 AM. The Rockets distribute their radio broadcasts on satellite via the Skyview Satellite Network, which makes it possible to send special programming to all of the affiliates.

Bill Worrell

Rockets Television Play-by-Play

One of the most familiar faces within the Houston sports scene, Bill Worrell's broadcasting career spans more than 36 years. Worrell begins his 28th season as the play-by-play announcer for Rockets telecasts.

Worrell broke into the television business in 1970 shortly after graduating from the University of Houston, where he attended on a baseball scholarship. His first assignment was with KPRC Channel 2, where he served as sports director from 1974 to 1980. During that time, he received six "Best Sportscaster" awards from the United Press International and the Texas Association of Broadcasters.

Worrell was one of the original employees for Home Sports Entertainment, Houston's first sports cable channel. He signed the network on the air January 3, 1983, with a pre-game broadcast prior to the network's inaugural event, a Rockets home game. Worrell quickly established himself as one of Houston's most versatile sportscasters. He served as an analyst on Houston Astros telecasts from 1985-2004, and has been the TV voice of the Rockets for the past 27 seasons. He has also broadcast play-by-play for the Houston Oilers and a variety of college sports. During his career, Worrell has covered and reported on numerous national sports events, including the Super Bowl, Kentucky Derby, Indianapolis 500, Major League Baseball Playoffs and NCAA Basketball Tournaments.

A civic leader as well as broadcaster, Worrell generously donates his time to numerous charities and organizations and serves as master of ceremonies for many events. He currently serves on the Board of MyFriends Foundation for at risk children. In 1998, he was awarded Distinguished Alumnus of the University of Houston School of Communication.

Clyde Drexler

Rockets Television Analyst

Houston legend Clyde Drexler enters his sixth season as part of the Rockets broadcast crew. Drexler, a Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame member, handles game commentary duties for all home games and postseason contests.

A native of Houston, Drexler first gained fame with Hakeem Olajuwon as a member of "Phi Slamma Jamma" at the University of Houston. A decade later, "The Glide" returned to his hometown in 1995 to help "The Dream" deliver Houston's second consecutive NBA Championship.

During his time with the Rockets, Drexler was honored on the NBA's 50th Anniversary All-Time Team and became the third player in NBA history to collect 20,000 points, 6,000 rebounds and 6,000 assists in a career. In 219 games with the Rockets, the 10-time NBA All-Star averaged 19.0 points, 6.1 rebounds, 5.4 assists and 1.88 steals. A member of the original "Dream Team," Drexler finished his NBA career with averages of 20.4 points, 6.1 rebounds, 5.6 assists and 2.03 steals in 15 seasons with Portland and Houston. He still ranks 23rd in NBA history with 22,195 career points and seventh with 2,207 career steals.

Drexler lives in Houston with his wife, Gaynell, and family. (For more information on Drexler, see pages 146-147).

Matt Bullard

Rockets Television Analyst

Matt Bullard begins his sixth full season as a member of the Houston Rockets television broadcast team. Bullard handles the analyst duties for the team's away games. He previously served as a substitute color analyst for Rockets local television broadcasts.

A 12-year veteran of the NBA, Bullard spent seven seasons as the radio color analyst for home broadcasts of the Houston Comets of the WNBA. Bullard started serving as Comets radio color commentator while still playing with the Rockets.

Bullard began his NBA career with the Rockets in 1990-91. He played nine seasons in Houston, including the 1993-94 NBA championship campaign. Bullard also spent the 1995-96 season with the Atlanta Hawks and was a member of the Charlotte/New Orleans Hornets in 2001-02 and 2002-03. He finished his college basketball career at Iowa after transferring from Colorado following his sophomore season.

Bullard has been featured in weekly NBA segments on KPRC-TV Sports Sunday, as well as on SportsRadio 610. He was also a finalist on season three of the ESPN reality show Dream Job in 2005.

He and his wife, Paula, have a daughter, Sara, and a son, A.J. Bullard, who is an avid fisherman and enjoys playing the drums, continues hosting his annual Matt Bullard Basketball Camp in The Woodlands, TX.

Craig Ackerman

Rockets Radio Play-by-Play

Craig Ackerman begins his third season as the play-by-play announcer for Houston Rockets radio broadcasts and his 17th as a member of the Rockets organization. Ackerman moved into his current role after serving five seasons as the studio host and substitute play-by-play announcer for Rockets radio broadcasts. Ackerman also filled in as radio analyst for games during both the 2006-07 and 2007-08 seasons.

From 2006-08, Ackerman worked as the radio and television play-by-play announcer for the Houston Comets of the WNBA. He also called action for football and men's basketball for the University of Houston. From 1997-2000, Ackerman was a member of the Rice Owls Radio Network. He was the sideline reporter for Rice football, as well as the play-by-play man and color analyst for the Rice men's and women's basketball programs. Ackerman previously worked as a play-by-play announcer, color analyst and studio host for the Houston ThunderBears of the Arena Football League.

Ackerman's on-air experience also includes work for NBA TV, where he served as an anchor/reporter covering the 2006 NBA All-Star Weekend in Houston.

Ackerman and his wife, Shannon, live in Missouri City with their sons, C.J. and Chase.

Joel Blank

Rockets Radio Analyst & Studio Host

Joel Blank begins his second season as analyst and studio host for Houston Rockets radio broadcasts. In addition to his on-air duties, Blank serves as Director of Broadcasting for the Rockets. A 17-year member of the Rockets front office, Blank oversees all aspects of broadcasting, including television, cable television, radio, Spanish radio, announcers, in-house broadcast production, contracts and affiliate relations.

Since joining the Rockets, Blank has won numerous awards, including national Telly and American Advertising Federation Awards and several local honors. Previously, Blank was Assistant Director of Broadcasting for the Portland Trail Blazers from 1991-94, where he coordinated the Tournament of the Americas, featuring the original Olympic "Dream Team." Prior to joining the Blazers, Blank was the sales and marketing manager, as well as graphic artist, for the LaCrosse Catbirds of the CBA from 1988-90.

A 1990 graduate of the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse, Blank was a four-year letterwinner as a starting pitcher on the Eagles baseball team. An avid golfer, Blank is single and lives in Midtown with his dog, Bubba.

Adrian Chavarria

Rockets Spanish Radio Play-by-Play

A native of Los Angeles, California, Adrian Chavarria begins his 15th season as the Rockets Spanish radio voice broadcast on KEYH 850 AM. For the 23rd consecutive season, the Rockets will broadcast every game in Spanish.

Chavarria's experience in broadcasting began as an intern with Telemundo in 1993. For three years, Chavarria worked for FOX Sports Americas, and later FOX Sports World en Espanol, as a college basketball analyst, as well as a reporter for various sporting events. In 1996-97, Chavarria became the Rockets Spanish radio color analyst. He took over as Spanish play-by-play announcer on Mar. 16, 1997, and has missed only two games since that date. The Rockets-Hornets game on Dec. 29, 2009, marked the 1,000th regular season game broadcast for Chavarria.

Chavarria lived in Costa Rica from 1985-90, where he still frequently provides NBA analysis for various television and radio stations.

He has also broadcast games in Spanish for such teams as the Dallas Cowboys, Dallas Mavericks, Chicago Bears and Houston Astros. In addition, Chavarria served as the English radio analyst and studio host for the Houston Comets of the WNBA in 2006.

Chavarria, who resides in Cypress, TX, received his degree in radio/television from the University of Houston in 1996.

Clutch City Foundation

Established by Rockets Owner Leslie Alexander in 1995, the Clutch City Foundation provides hope, help and inspiration for those who might otherwise be forgotten. The Clutch City Foundation serves as the umbrella organization for all Rockets community initiatives. Through the foundation, Rockets players, coaches and staff participate in a myriad of programs that help to make life better for Houstonians – especially those in need.

Tux & Tennies Charity Gala

Recognized as the premier fundraising event of the Clutch City Foundation, and held on the Rockets court at Toyota Center, more than 400 annual guests wear their favorite sneakers, spend time with the Rockets team and bid on exclusive and rare autographed memorabilia in the silent auction. Since 1996, the Clutch City Foundation Tux & Tennies Charity Gala has raised over $5 million. Proceeds from last year's Gala benefited the Memorial Hermann Foundation – HEARTS™ program. HEARTS™ aims to reach out to children who may be, or already are, at-risk for life threatening but correctable heart abnormalities. It is an integrated at-risk youth screening program which is two-fold – both a cutting-edge public health intervention for young people and a peer-reviewed IRB approved research study. Currently, there is no program of its kind in the United States.

United Way of Greater Houston

The Rockets are committed to working with the United Way of Greater Houston in its efforts to provide a safety net for thousands of Houstonians who depend on social agencies for support. Over the past several years, Owner Leslie Alexander and Rockets employees have contributed over $600,000 to the United Way Annual Campaign. In addition, the organization participates in the annual Days of Caring, a city-wide, two-day community service initiative dedicated to helping non-profit organizations with projects that enhance their facilities, which includes painting, landscaping, construction and other projects.

A Season of Giving

During the holiday season, Rockets players, coaches and staff host a series of events for members of the community who are less fortunate. Each year, hundreds of children and their families are the recipients of private parties, gifts and surprise visits by players.

Houston Rockets Player Ticket Program

Charity begins at home for Rockets players, so each year many purchase blocks of season tickets to be donated to underserved children and their families. Non-profit or community groups that serve underprivileged youth and families, please visit the online community section at www.rockets.com and complete the application, or send a written request on your organization's letterhead to: Houston Rockets, Community Relations, 1510 Polk St., Houston, TX 77002 or by fax to (713) 758-7358.

Grassroots Basketball

Research shows that children who play sports are more likely to excel academically, as well as in every other area of their lives. With such a powerful impact on the lives of youth, the Rockets organization places a high priority on providing the resources and opportunity for young people to play basketball. That is why grassroots basketball programs comprise a large part of Rockets youth initiatives, which make it possible for thousands of children throughout Greater Houston to get involved in the game. Programs include:

Best Shot ... Serving Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Houston

The Rockets and the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Houston have been in partnership for the past 15 seasons. Students at 13 Club locations participate in the Best Shot Basketball League, a 10-week after-school program that provides students with academic tutoring, cultural awareness workshops and drug prevention education. More than 1,400 students annually participate.

Houston Rockets Skills Camps

Continuing to expand upon grassroots basketball initiatives, the Rockets host a series of Skills Camps throughout the Season. Each camp offers specialized training in basketball fundamentals, while teaching the importance of teamwork and good sportsmanship. Visit the community section at www.rockets.com for dates and locations.

Be Fit Challenge with Memorial Hermann

The Rockets and Memorial Hermann reward children who make nutritious eating and regular exercise a daily habit, as well as encouraging parents to become involved in their children's healthy lifestyles. The Be Fit Challenge is implemented in Houston schools, and provides children with nutritional and activity tips. It also includes a Be Fit game where students can win Rockets prizes. Additionally, one school is rewarded with an exciting Be Fit Rally, starring Rockets entertainment and Memorial Hermann fitness and nutrition experts.

Grassroots Education

The Rockets are committed to working with local school districts and educational institutions in an effort to help improve student academic performance. Therefore, the Rockets implement educational programs in collaboration with local school administrators and educators that are designed around existing school curriculum. Programs include:

Rockets Read to Achieve

Read to Achieve is a NBA league-wide initiative that promotes the value of reading and online literacy, as well as encouraging families and adults to read regularly with young children. Each season, more than 50,000 Houston area students participate in Rockets Read to Achieve Programs.

Rockets Read to Achieve Jam Fest

This season thousands of elementary students throughout Greater Houston will take part in the Rockets Read to Achieve Jam Fest at Toyota Center. The high energy rally will feature local artists and celebrities, as well as Rockets players and entertainers.

Rockets SAT Training Camp Presented by Comcast

Hosted in partnership with the Princeton Review, SAT Training Camp is a college prep day for local athletes. The SAT Training Camp provides a full menu of information to help guide parents and students through the college application process, including information about admissions, financial aid, SAT/PSAT prep classes, test dates and much more.

Teacher of the Game Presented by Devon Energy

The Houston Rockets and Devon Energy applaud the exceptional teachers in the Houston area who are at the forefront of educational excellence. The Teacher of the Game program recognizes exemplary teachers during halftime of Rockets home games for inspiring students to excel. Visit the community section at www.rockets.com for more information.

NBA Cares

NBA Cares is the league's global social responsibility program that builds on the NBA's long tradition of addressing important social issues. The NBA, its teams and players support a wide range of initiatives, partners, and programs that strive to positively impact children and families around the world. As part of the league's mission to demonstrate leadership in social responsibility, NBA Cares reaches communities using philanthropy, hands-on service, and creating legacy projects. Since the program's Oct. 2005 launch, the league, its players, and its teams have donated more than $140 million to charity, provided more than 1.1 million hours of hands-on service, and created more than 500 places where kids and families can live, learn or play. NBA Cares reaches millions of children and adults through specialized programs – including NBA FIT and Basketball Without Borders – that support education, youth and family development, as well as health and wellness. The league, its teams and players also promote environmental awareness and sustainability through NBA Green. During annual high-profile league events, including NBA All-Star, The Finals, and international preseason games, NBA Cares initiates community outreach efforts to tap into the power of sport for positive social change. Thanks to strong partnerships with internationally recognized community organizations – including KaBOOM!, Special Olympics, Boys & Girls Clubs of America, UNICEF, the Make-A-Wish Foundation, the Global Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS, Malaria and Tuberculosis, and the UN Foundation – NBA Cares makes a positive and lasting impact in communities around the world. For more information about the NBA's latest community outreach efforts, please log on to: www.nba.com/cares

The History

History of the Rockets

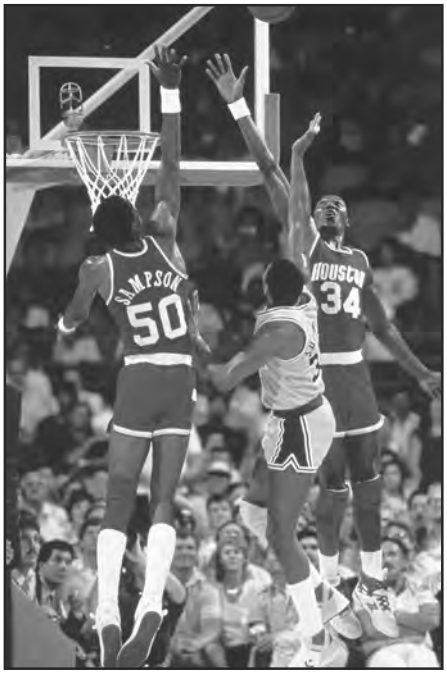
The Rockets franchise entered the NBA as the San Diego Rockets prior to the 1967-68 season, along with the Seattle SuperSonics, as the league expanded to 12 teams. The Rockets received their team name because it kept with San Diego's then-theme of a "city in motion," while reflecting the growth of space-age industries in San Diego. The 1967-68 Rockets compiled a league-worst 15-67 record, but were able to select University of Houston's Elvin Hayes with the first overall pick in the 1968 NBA Draft. As a rookie, Hayes scored an NBA-leading 28.4 points per game, helping the team to a 37-45 record and a playoff berth. The Rockets drafted Rudy Tomjanovich and Calvin Murphy in the 1970 NBA Draft, but were unable to produce a winning record in any of their four seasons in San Diego.



In June 1971, a group named Texas Sports Investments bought the Rockets franchise for $5.6 million and moved the team to Houston. During their first year in Texas, the Rockets played home games in Houston, San Antonio and Waco. In 1972, Hayes was traded to Baltimore. The 1974-75 Rockets produced the franchise's first season at .500 or better and first playoff series win. The franchise further improved two seasons later with the additions of John Lucas, the top pick in the 1976 NBA Draft, and Moses Malone, who had starred in the ABA the previous two years. The 1976-77 Rockets registered a 49-33 record and won their first division title, as 1977 NBA Coach of the Year Tom Nissalke guided them to the Conference Finals. Houston's record slipped the following season, as the team played most of the year without an injured Tomjanovich. He returned the following season to join Malone and Murphy in the 1979 NBA All-Star Game. That season, Malone averaged 24.8 points and an NBA-leading 17.6 rebounds to give the Rockets their first-ever NBA MVP. After the 1978-79 Rockets were eliminated in the first round of the playoffs, Del Harris was hired as head coach. In Harris' first season, the Rockets advanced to the Conference Semifinals.

The 1980-81 Rockets qualified for the playoffs in the season's final weekend with a 40-42 record. Malone averaged 27.8 points and an NBA-best 14.8 rebounds, while Murphy set NBA records with 78 consecutive free throws made and a single-season free-throw percentage of .958. Despite their sub-.500 record, the Rockets advanced to their first-ever NBA Finals, losing to Boston but becoming the first team from Houston to play for a championship in basketball, football or baseball. The following season, Hayes returned to replace a retired Tomjanovich, but the Rockets were unable to recapture the postseason magic. Despite Malone winning his second NBA MVP award with averages of 31.1 points and 14.7 rebounds, the 1981-82 Rockets lost in the first round of the playoffs. Malone was then traded to Philadelphia and the 1982-83 Rockets logged a franchise-worst 14-68 record. The Rockets replaced Del Harris with Bill Fitch as head coach at the season's end.

Houston used back-to-back poor seasons to obtain the first overall selection in both the 1983 and 1984 NBA Drafts. The Rockets picked 7-foot-4 Ralph Sampson in 1983 and 7-foot Hakeem Olajuwon from the University of Houston the following year to assemble the tallest frontcourt the league had ever known. Sampson won the NBA Rookie of the Year award in his first season, while Olajuwon finished second in balloting to Michael Jordan a year later. The 1984-85 Rockets compiled a 48-34 record during Sampson's and Olajuwon's first season together, but were eliminated in the first round of the playoffs. The following year, the Rockets rolled to a 51-31 record, won the Midwest Division, and upset the defending NBA Champion L.A. Lakers to advance to the NBA Finals, where the team fell to Boston for the second time in six years.

The 1986-87 Rockets advanced to the Conference Semifinals, as Olajuwon earned his first of three straight All-NBA First-Team selections and Sampson struggled with injuries. The next year Houston traded Sampson and Steve Harris to Golden State for Joe Barry Carroll and Eric "Sleepy" Floyd, marking the first time that two first overall selections had been traded for one another. After the 1987-88 Rockets lost in the first round of the playoffs, Don Chaney replaced Fitch as head coach. During the 1988-89 season, Olajuwon became the first player to collect 200 steals and 200 blocks in the same season. Despite the addition of Otis Thorpe, the 1988-89 Rockets lost in the first round of the playoffs. The following season, a trade for Vernon Maxwell could not prevent another first-round exit. With the addition of Kenny Smith, the 1990-91 Rockets overcame losing Olajuwon to injury for 26 games to finish with a 52-30 record and earn Don Chaney NBA Coach of the Year honors. A first-round exit followed by a 26-26 start to the 1991-92 season cost Chaney his job. Tomjanovich was promoted from assistant coach to interim head coach during the season before being named permanent head coach at the season's end. That offseason, the Rockets added Robert Horry via the 1992 NBA Draft.

Beginning with the 1992-93 season, Olajuwon's All-Star play elevated to an even higher level for a four-year stretch. In 1993, he won the first of consecutive Defensive Player of the Year awards, finished second in MVP voting, and earned the first of consecutive selections to the All-NBA First Team. The 1992-93 Rockets set a franchise record with an NBA season-best 15 consecutive wins and won the Midwest Division with a 55-27 record before losing in the Conference Semifinals.

On July 30, 1993, Leslie Alexander purchased the Rockets. The 1993-94 Rockets opened the year by tying an NBA record with a perfect 15-0 start. Houston went on to set the franchise record for wins with a 58-24 record, claiming the Midwest Division title. Olajuwon averaged 27.3 points, 11.9 rebounds and 3.71 blocked shots to win both the NBA MVP award and the NBA Defensive Player of the Year award. In the Conference Semifinals, two home losses to Phoenix prompted a Houston newspaper to post the headline "Choke City," but the Rockets responded to win the seven-game series and earn the moniker "Clutch City." Houston then defeated Utah in the Conference Finals to advance to the 1994 NBA Finals against the New York Knicks. No team reached 100 points in any game in the Finals and every contest was decided by less than 10 points. The Rockets won the seven-game series to secure the first-ever professional championship for a sports team from Houston. Olajuwon earned the Finals MVP award, becoming the first player to ever win this honor along with both the regular season MVP award and the Defensive Player of the Year award in the same season.

With another NBA Championship in 1995, the Rockets became the fifth franchise in league history to boast back-to-back titles. The Rockets played the role of underdog in their bid to repeat as champions, entering the postseason as the sixth seed in the conference with a 47-35 record. The Rockets midseason trade of Thorpe reunited Houston native Clyde Drexler with Olajuwon, his former teammate at the University of Houston. The Rockets became the lowest seed ever to win a title and the first team to ever eliminate four teams that had each won 50 or more regular-season games, knocking off Utah, Phoenix, San Antonio and Orlando. The Rockets swept Orlando in the 1995 NBA Finals, as Olajuwon repeated as the NBA Finals MVP.

During the 1995-96 season, Olajuwon became the NBA's all-time blocked shots leader and Tomjanovich became the franchise's all-time winningest coach. In the playoffs, the Rockets were unable to repeat as champions, falling in the Conference Semifinals. Prior to the 1996-97 season, the Rockets acquired Charles Barkley, whose addition propelled Houston to a 57-25 record and the Conference Finals. The 1997-98 Rockets hoped to make one last championship run in Drexler's final season, but Barkley tore a tricep muscle and Houston bowed out in the first round. The next year, the Rockets added Scottie Pippen to fill out the frontcourt of Olajuwon and Barkley. The Rockets notched their 15th consecutive winning season, but lost in the first round of the playoffs. Pippen was then traded to Portland in the offseason.

In the 1999-2000 season, Barkley played his final season and Steve Francis earned NBA Co-Rookie of the Year honors. The following season marked Houston's last year with Olajuwon, who requested a trade at the season's end. One year later, the Rockets found a new center with the first overall pick in the 2002 NBA Draft. Houston selected China's Yao Ming, who became the first-ever No. 1 pick to come from an international basketball league. Following the 2002-2003 season, Tomjanovich stepped down as head coach of the Rockets with a franchise-record 503 victories in 900 games.

On June 11, 2003, Jeff Van Gundy became the 10th head coach in Rockets history. In Van Gundy's first season, the Rockets moved into their new home Toyota Center, set several defensive records and returned to the playoffs for the first time in five years. On June 29, 2004, Houston acquired Tracy McGrady, trading its backcourt of Francis and Cuttino Mobley in a seven-player deal for the 25-year-old two-time NBA scoring champion. In his inaugural season in Houston, McGrady became the first player in Rockets history to reach 2,000 points, 400 rebounds and 400 assists in a single season. McGrady also became the first-ever Houston player to earn Player-of-the-Week recognition four times in the same campaign. Overall in 2004-2005, the tandem of McGrady and Yao helped lead the Rockets to a 51-31 mark and a first-round playoff series with Dallas, where the Mavericks prevailed in a decisive Game Seven at AmericanAirlines Center.

The 2005-2006 campaign was highlighted with Houston hosting the 2006 NBA All-Star Game, which marked the second time the contest has been played in the "Space City." Houston first held the midseason classic in 1989 before a then-record crowd of 44,735 at the Astrodome. McGrady scored a game-high 36 points for the West, while Yao led all players in votes received for a second straight season. The Rockets finished 2005-2006 with a 34-48 record, as McGrady and Yao played in just 31 games together due to injuries suffered by both players.

On April 3, 2006, Alexander named Daryl Morey as the team's Assistant General Manager. The Rockets also acquired Shane Battier from the Memphis Grizzlies in exchange for Stromile Swift and the draft rights to Connecticut forward Rudy Gay on July 12, 2006. With the addition of Battier along with strong play from Yao and McGrady, the 2006-07 Rockets blasted off to one of their best starts in recent years. Yao was named Western Conference Player of the Month for games played through Nov., becoming the first Rockets player to receive this recognition since Olajuwon. When Yao suffered a small fracture on his right anterior medial tibial plateau vs. the L.A. Clippers on Dec. 23, McGrady put the team on his back and helped lead the Rockets to a 20-12 record over the 32 games Yao was out with the injury. Also playing a huge role was reserve center Dikembe Mutombo, who moved past Kareem Abdul-Jabbar into second on the NBA's all-time blocked shots list. Houston finished the season with a 52-30 mark, but lost a heartbreaking Game Seven to the Utah Jazz in the opening round of the 2007 NBA Playoffs.

On May 10, 2007, Alexander announced that Morey officially assumed his role as General Manager of the franchise. Morey took over the position from retiring Carroll Dawson, who was honored by Alexander with "Carroll Dawson Tribute Night" on April 16, 2007, where a banner bearing his name was hung from the rafters of Toyota Center in tribute to Dawson's 27 seasons with the Rockets organization. The offseason changes did not stop there, as the team and Van Gundy decided to part ways. Alexander then hired Rick Adelman as head coach and commissioned Morey to build a roster to fit his system. In the 2007 NBA Draft, Morey selected Aaron Brooks in the first round and traded for the draft rights to Carl Landry. The team also acquired from San Antonio the draft rights to Argentine forward Luis Scola on July 12, 2007.

In his first season, Adelman guided the 2007-08 Rockets to a 55-27 record. Houston actually captured 22 victories in a row (1/29/08-3/16/08), which stands as the second-longest winning streak in NBA history. The team went 13-0 in Feb. 2008, while recording 12 consecutive wins away from Toyota Center (1/4/08-3/12/08) to mark the longest road winning streak in club annals. The accomplishments were even more noteworthy since Yao was lost for the remainder of the season after undergoing surgery to repair a stress fracture in his left foot on March 3, 2008. Another highlight during this record-setting season was Alexander honoring Olajuwon for his many contributions to the Rockets organization with the unveiling of a commissioned bronze sculpture in front of Toyota Center during a special ceremony on April 11, 2008. Despite a growing number of injuries, Houston battled to the end, but dropped their opening-round series with Utah in the 2008 NBA Playoffs.

The Rockets began the 2008-09 campaign by trading for Ron Artest and completed their run by taking the eventual NBA Champion L.A. Lakers to a Game Seven of the 2009 Western Conference Semifinals. Led by the scoring of Brooks, Houston went the full seven games with the Lakers despite playing without McGrady (microfracture surgery on left knee) and losing the services of Yao (broken bone in left foot) for the final four contests of the series. The Rockets advanced to face the Lakers by defeating Portland in the opening round, which marked the club's first series win in the playoffs since 1997. The memorable postseason came after a 53-29 regular season, which gave Houston its third consecutive 50-win campaign for the first time in franchise history.

Despite playing the entire 2009-10 campaign without Yao (foot surgery), Houston registered a 42-40 mark to become the only team in the past 20 NBA seasons to finish above .500 without an All-Star. It marked just the 26th time in NBA history for a team to finish a season with a winning record and not make the playoffs. Brooks became the sixth player in league annals to make at least 200 3-pointers (209) and dish out 400 or more assists (434) in the same season en route to capturing the NBA's 2009-10 Most Improved Player award. In addition to the inspired play of Scola, the Rockets were involved in a three-team, nine-player trade that brought Kevin Martin to Houston from Sacramento on Feb. 18, 2010, while sending McGrady to the New York Knicks and Landry to the Kings.

In the offseason leading into 2010-11, Houston made Kentucky forward Patrick Patterson the 14th overall selection in the 2010 NBA Draft. After signing free agent Brad Miller from the Chicago Bulls, the Rockets acquired Courtney Lee from the New Jersey Nets in a four-team, five-player trade that sent Trevor Ariza to the New Orleans Hornets.

- Member of the gold-medal-winning 1992 United States Olympic Team
- Inducted into Basketball Hall of Fame in 2004
- Selected to the NBA's 50th Anniversary All-Time Team
- Retired as a player after the 1997-98 season; Number (22) was retired on Feb. 3, 2000

Houston's native son, Clyde Drexler, originally gained fame with Hakeem Olajuwon on "Phi Slama Jama" at the University of Houston. Over a decade later, "The Glide" returned to his hometown to team up with "The Dream" to deliver the Rockets second consecutive NBA Championship.

On Feb. 14, 1995, Drexler was traded to Houston with Tracy Murray for Otis Thorpe and the rights to Marcelo Nicola on Feb. 14, 1995. In 35 regular season games with Houston during the 1994-95 season, Drexler averaged 21.4 points on .506 shooting with 7.0 rebounds. Drexler's value soared higher for the Rockets in the 1995 NBA Playoffs, when he served as the Rockets second-leading scorer during their second consecutive championship run. Drexler averaged 20.5 points, 7.0 rebounds and 5.0 assists in 22 playoff games for Houston, as the Rockets became the first-ever sixth seed to win an NBA title. In Houston's 1995 NBA Finals sweep of Shaquille O'Neal and the Orlando Magic, Drexler posted averages of 21.5 points, 9.5 rebounds and 6.8 assists.

Following the Rockets championship run of 1995, Drexler signed a contract extension to play with Houston for three more seasons. He became the 24th player in NBA history to register 20,000 career points on Nov. 24, 1996, at the L.A. Lakers. That same season he earned selection to the NBA's 50th Anniversary All-Time Team during the 1997 NBA All-Star Weekend. On Feb. 16, 1998, Drexler joined John Havlicek and Oscar Robertson as the only players in NBA history to collect 20,000 points, 6,000 rebounds and 6,000 assists in a career. In his final season with the Rockets, Drexler teamed with Houston Comets guard Cynthia Cooper to win the first-ever All-Star 2ball competition during the 1998 All-Star Weekend.

In 219 games with the Rockets, Drexler averaged 19.0 points, 6.1 rebounds, 5.4 assists and 1.88 steals. In Rockets history, his scoring average ranks tied for eighth all-time, his 363 3-pointers rank 10th and his 1,072 3-pointers attempted rank ninth. Drexler will best be remembered for his playoff performances with the Rockets, as he averaged 18.6 points, 6.5 rebounds and 4.9 assists in 51 playoff games with Houston. In Rockets playoff history, he stands tied for second in 3-pointers attempted, third in 3-pointers made, third in free throws made and attempted, sixth in scoring average, fourth in steals, fourth in assists, fourth in points, fifth in field goals made and attempted, seventh in rebounds, and ninth in blocks. Drexler teamed with Olajuwon to become the third teammate duo in NBA playoff history to each reach 40 points in the same game when he scored 41 points in Game Four of the 1995 Western Conference First Round vs. Utah.

After leading the Rockets in scoring during the 1997-98 season, Drexler retired from the NBA with career averages of 20.4 points, 6.1 rebounds, 5.6 assists and 2.03 steals in 15 seasons with Portland and Houston. He ranks 23rd in NBA history with 22,195 career points and seventh with 2,207 career steals. Before being traded to Houston, Drexler played for 11-and-a-half seasons in Portland, leaving as the Blazers all-time leader in games played, minutes played, scoring, field goals made and attempted, free throws made and attempted, total rebounds, offensive rebounds and steals. He was named to the All-NBA First Team in 1992 and played on the gold-medal-winning "Dream Team" in the Olympics following that season. He received both All-NBA Second-Team (1988, 1991) and Third-Team (1990, 1995) honors twice. The 10-time NBA All-Star collected 25 career triple-doubles, with his last seven coming with the Rockets. Drexler participated in the playoffs in every year he played, placing him among the all-time NBA leaders in postseasons played. He reached the NBA Finals three times, as his Blazers lost to Detroit in 1990 and Chicago in 1992 before he won with the Rockets. His NBA Finals scoring average of 24.5 points per game ranks 11th in NBA history. He ranks 20th among all-time NBA career playoff scorers with 2,963 points.

Prior to entering the NBA, Drexler averaged 14.4 points and 9.9 rebounds per game in three seasons at the University of Houston. He teamed with Olajuwon and Larry Micheaux to form the "Phi Slama Jama" frontcourt that led the Cougars to the NCAA Final Four in 1982 and 1983. Drexler finished as Houston's all-time leader in steals with 268 career thefts. He had his #22 retired by the University of Houston along with Olajuwon's #34 in February 1997. Following his NBA career, Drexler served as the head coach at the University of Houston, as an assistant coach for the Denver Nuggets and currently serves as a broadcaster for the Rockets.

- Inducted into Basketball Hall of Fame in 2001
- Retired as a player prior to the 1995-96 season; Number (24) was retired on April 19, 1998

The fifth-leading rebounder and sixth-leading scorer in NBA history, Moses Malone is a legend that not only made a big impact on the game of basketball, but left a lasting impression with the city of Houston. A two-time NBA MVP in Houston, Malone averaged 24.0 points and a franchise-record 15.0 rebounds in six seasons with the Rockets. Malone also set the franchise single-season record for points in 1982 and rebounds in 1979. Malone was honored for his accomplishments in 2001 with his induction into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

"When you look back over the 25 years that I played, the game did me good," Malone said following his selection to the Hall of Fame. "The opportunity to be an All-Star for so many years, to be one of the 50 greatest players and then to get the call to be in the Hall of Fame."

After being named Parade High School Player of the Year in Petersburg, Virginia, Malone bypassed college and went directly into the American Basketball Association (ABA), playing with the Utah Stars and the St. Louis Spirits from 1974-76. Malone found himself on the Buffalo Braves roster when the ABA merged with the NBA in 1976. However, Malone only played two games with the Braves before he was sent to the Rockets on Oct. 24, 1976, in exchange for two first-round draft picks. During his first NBA season, Malone averaged 13.2 points and 13.1 rebounds, leading the league in offensive rebounds.

During the 1978-79 season, Malone won his first of three NBA MVP awards by averaging 24.8 points and a league-best 17.6 rebounds per game. The 1978-79 season also marked the first of four consecutive years in which Malone led Houston in points, rebounds and blocked shots.

Malone and his Rockets teammates made history together during the 1980-81 season as the second team ever to win a conference championship and reach the NBA Finals with a losing record. Despite Malone averaging 27.8 points and 14.8 rebounds per game in the 1980-81 season, most people didn't expect the Rockets to get past the first round with a 40-42 regular season record. However, the Rockets upset the reigning NBA Champion Lakers in the first round. Despite the Rockets inspired play in the playoffs, they fell to Larry Bird and the Celtics in the 1981 NBA Finals.

Malone averaged 31.1 points and a league-leading 14.7 rebounds en route to his second MVP award in the 1981-82 season. During that season, he set Rockets records with 13 consecutive 30-point games and three consecutive 40-point games.

On Sept. 15, 1982, Malone was traded to the Philadelphia 76ers in exchange for Caldwell Jones and their 1983 first-round draft pick. Malone claimed MVP honors for the regular season and the NBA Finals in his first season with the 76ers, teaming with Julius Erving to win the NBA title for Philadelphia.

After leaving Houston, Malone played 13 more seasons, including stints with Philadelphia, Washington, Atlanta, Milwaukee and San Antonio. He retired in 1995 with 29,580 points and 17,834 rebounds in 1,455 ABA and NBA games, ranking sixth all-time in major league points and third all-time in rebounds.

A 12-time NBA All-Star, Malone led the NBA in rebounding six times and averaged more than 20 points per game for 11 consecutive seasons. A three-time NBA MVP, Malone was named to the All-NBA First Team four times and the All-NBA Second Team four times. He was named NBA All-Defensive First Team once and All-Defensive Second Team once. Malone earned selection to the NBA's 50th Anniversary All-Time Team during the 1997 NBA All-Star Weekend. During his 19-year NBA career, Malone scored 27,409 points and grabbed 16,212 rebounds. In 1,329 regular season games, he averaged 20.6 points and 12.2 rebounds. In 94 playoff games, he averaged 22.1 points and 13.8 boards.

Malone holds a number of NBA records, including the career record for most offensive rebounds (6,731); single-season record for most offensive rebounds (587); single-game record for most offensive rebounds (21). He also ranks second all-time for most consecutive games without a disqualification (1,212); second most free throws made (8,531); fourth most free throws attempted (11,090); fourth most defensive rebounds (9,481); ninth most games played (1,329); and 10th most minutes played (45,071). He also holds the single-game record for most offensive rebounds in the playoffs (15).

Calvin Murphy

Born: May 9, 1948
Hometown: Norwalk, Connecticut
High School: Norwalk
College: Niagara '70

#23

- Drafted by Rockets, 2nd Round, 18th overall pick in 1970 NBA Draft
- NBA All-Star (1979)
- NBA All-Rookie Team (1970-71)
- Ranks second in Rockets history in career points
- Recipient of the NBA's J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award in 1979
- Holds the NBA's second-highest, single-season free throw percentage .958 (1980-81)
- Inducted into Basketball Hall of Fame in 1993
- Retired as a player prior to the 1983-84 season; Number (23) was retired on March 17, 1984

Calvin Murphy enjoyed one of the greatest moments of his life on May 10, 1993, when he was inducted into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

"My only dream was that I wanted to start for my high school basketball team, the Norwalk High School Bears," said Murphy, who played his entire 13-year NBA career with the Rockets from 1970-83. "Going to the Hall of Fame was beyond my wildest dreams."

Murphy became the first Hall of Famer to play his entire career with the Rockets, as he averaged 17.9 points and 4.4 assists in 1,002 career games. He still ranks sixth on the all-time NBA free throw percentage list at .892. In 1980-81, Murphy posted a free throw percentage of .958 (206-215 FT), which was the NBA single-season record until Jose Calderon of Toronto hit .981 (151-154 FT) from the line in 2008-09. During Murphy's 1980-81 campaign, he also set a then-NBA record by making 78 consecutive free throws from Dec. 27-Feb. 20, which stood for over a decade until Micheal Williams of Minnesota made 84 straight at the end of the 1992-93 season.

The 5-foot-9 Murphy, who scored 17,949 career points, stands with Avery Johnson as the only two players under six feet to play in 1,000 NBA games. Murphy still owns the Rockets career record with 4,402 assists and holds the 11th-best field goal percentage (.482) among NBA guards who have scored at least 15,000 points.

Murphy led the NBA in free throw percentage twice (1980-81, 1982-83) and finished among the top five in nine other seasons. Murphy, Ray Allen, Rick Barry, Reggie Miller, Steve Nash, Mark Price and Peja Stojakovic are the only players in league history to have shot .900 or better from the line in five or more seasons.

Murphy stands with Hakeem Olajuwon as the only Rockets to rank in the NBA top-10 in four statistical categories in one season, as the Rockets guard accomplished this feat during the 1973-74 season. That year, Murphy ranked second in the NBA with 7.4 assists per game, fourth with a field goal percentage of .522, sixth with a free throw percentage of .868 and ninth with 1.94 steals per game. He also finished that season ranked 19th among scoring leaders with 20.4 points per game.

The San Diego Rockets selected Murphy in the second round in 1970 with the 18th overall pick. The former Niagara University star went on to earn NBA All-Rookie First-Team honors (other First-Team members: Pete Maravich, Bob Lanier, Dave Cowens and Geoff Petrie) and finish fourth in the Rookie of the Year balloting.

Murphy's best year came during the 1977-78 season, when he ranked fifth in the NBA with a career-high 25.6 points per game. He reached 30 points 23 times and scored 40 points three times during that year, including the Rockets single-game scoring record of 57 points vs. New Jersey on March 18, 1978. Murphy averaged better than 20 points in five of 13 seasons, including three consecutive years from 1977-80. In a season, he led the Rockets in points twice, assists three times, steals five times and free throw percentage 10 times.

Murphy scored better than 40 points seven times during the regular season in his NBA career – only Olajuwon (32), Elvin Hayes (25), Moses Malone (22) and Tracy McGrady (15) have had more 40-point games in Rockets history.

A 1979 NBA All-Star, Murphy had one of the most brilliant careers in NCAA Division I history. He was a three-time consensus All-American (First Team 1969 and 1970, Second Team 1968). Murphy averaged 33.1 points in 77 games – still the fourth best average in Division I history (44.2 by Pete Maravich of LSU, 34.6 by Austin Carr of Notre Dame, 33.8 by Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati). His 68 points on Dec. 7, 1968 vs. Syracuse is still the third-best mark against a Division I opponent. Only five players in NCAA history averaged more points in a season than Murphy, who scored 38.2 points per game during the 1967-68 season. He scored 30 or more points in 42 of the 77 games he played for Niagara, reaching 40 points on 19 occasions and 50 points six times.

Murphy averaged double figures in points during every season he played organized basketball, spanning from high school to the NBA. Following his retirement as a player, he worked with the Rockets organization as an assistant coach, a broadcaster and a community services advisor.

- Inducted into Basketball Hall of Fame in 2008
- Retired as a player after the 2001-2002 season; Number (34) was retired on Nov. 9, 2002

For two decades, Hakeem "The Dream" Olajuwon dedicated himself to winning for the city of Houston. By the end of his career, he had secured his place among the most legendary icons in sports. The NBA's all-time blocked shots leader brought Houston its first major sports championships by leading the Rockets to back-to-back NBA Championships in 1994 and 1995. In 2001, Olajuwon finished his 17-year career with the Rockets as the franchise's all-time leader in 26 regular season and postseason statistical categories.

Rockets Owner Leslie Alexander honored Olajuwon for his many contributions to the Rockets organization with the unveiling of a commissioned bronze sculpture in front of Toyota Center during a special ceremony on April 11, 2008.

Inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 2008, Olajuwon also received several honors during his tenure with the Rockets. Upon entering the league, he was named to the NBA All-Rookie Team with Michael Jordan and Charles Barkley in 1985. Over the next 14 years, he was selected to All-NBA First Team six times (1987-89, 1993-94, 1997), Second Team three times (1986, 1990, 1996), and Third Team three times (1991, 1995, 1999). The 12-time All-Star was also chosen for the NBA All-Defensive First Team five times (1987-88, 1990, 1993-94) and Second Team four times (1985, 1991, 1996-97). The Texas Sports Hall of Fame inducted Olajuwon on Jan. 27, 1999.

In NBA history, Olajuwon ranks eighth with 26,946 points, 11th with 13,748 rebounds, eighth with 2,162 steals and first with 3,830 blocked shots. In 1,177 career games with the Rockets, he averaged 22.5 points, 11.4 rebounds, 1.77 steals and 3.18 blocked shots. Overall with Houston, Olajuwon ranks first all-time in years played, games played, points, rebounds, defensive rebounds, offensive rebounds, steals, blocked shots, free throws made and attempted, field goals made and attempted, as well as minutes played. He also stands third in Rockets history in scoring average and third in assists.

Olajuwon led the Rockets to the playoffs 14 times, averaging 26.6 points, 11.4 rebounds and 3.34 blocks in 140 career playoff contests. In NBA playoff history, he ranks second in blocks (472), 10th in points (3,755) and ninth in scoring average (25.9). In 1986, Olajuwon and Ralph Sampson led the Rockets to the NBA Finals. In 1994, he averaged 28.9 points and 11.0 rebounds in Houston's trek to its first NBA title. The following year, he posted averages of 33.0 points and 10.3 rebounds as the Rockets won their second consecutive NBA championship. Olajuwon stands as the team's all-time playoff leader in postseasons played, games played, minutes, points, field goals made and attempted, free throws made and attempted, rebounds, assists, steals and blocks. He also ranks second in postseason scoring average.

During the 1988-89 season, Olajuwon became the first player in NBA history to reach 200 blocks and 200 steals in one year. The following season, he led the NBA with career highs of 14.0 rebounds and 4.59 blocks, standing as one of two rebounding titles and one of three blocked shots crowns. On March 29, 1990 vs. Milwaukee, he recorded a quadruple-double, marking one of 14 career triple-doubles.

In 1994, Olajuwon became the first player in league history to win the NBA MVP, Defensive Player of the Year and NBA Finals MVP in the same season. This also marked his second consecutive Defensive Player of the Year award and the first of two consecutive NBA Finals MVP awards.

Born in Nigeria, Olajuwon earned American citizenship and represented his country as a member of the gold-medal-winning 1996 United States Olympic Team. Selected to the Rockets 30-Year Team in 1998, he was also named one of the 50 Greatest Players in NBA History, which was announced by NBA Commissioner David Stern on Oct. 29, 1996, in New York City.

Olajuwon came to Houston in 1980 as a freshman at the University of Houston, teaming with Clyde Drexler and Larry Micheaux to form the "Phi Slama Jama" frontcourt. Olajuwon led the Cougars to the NCAA Final Four in three straight seasons. After topping the NCAA with averages of 13.5 rebounds and 5.6 blocks to earn consensus All-America First-Team honors, Olajuwon was selected by the Rockets with the first overall pick of the 1984 NBA Draft. He was later selected the Southwest Conference Player of the Decade and his #34 was retired by the University of Houston along with Drexler's #22 in Feb. 1997.

College: Michigan '70

- Drafted by Rockets, 1st Round, 2nd overall pick in 1970 NBA Draft
- Five-Time NBA All-Star (1974-77, 1979)
- Ranks third in Rockets history in career points and fourth in career rebounds
- Head Coach of the 1994 & 1995 NBA Champion Houston Rockets teams
- Head Coach of the gold-medal-winning 2000 United States Olympic Team
- Holds Rockets franchise record for coaching wins
- Inducted into the Texas Sports Hall of Fame in 2003
- Retired as a player after the 1980-81 season; Number (45) was retired on Jan. 28, 1982

Rudy Tomjanovich reached the heights of success both on the court and the sidelines during three decades with the Rockets. After earning five All-Star selections as a player, "Rudy T" won the city of Houston its first-ever major championships by coaching the Rockets to back-to-back titles in 1994 and 1995.

Tomjanovich, who spent 33 consecutive seasons with the Rockets, holds the franchise record with 503 coaching wins and ranks third in Rockets history with 13,383 career points. He was involved in all four Rockets division titles – as leading scorer in 1976-77, assistant coach in 1985-86 and as head coach in 1992-93 and 1993-94.

Tomjanovich first joined the San Diego Rockets as the second overall pick in the 1970 NBA Draft after a storied collegiate career at the University of Michigan. The all-time leading rebounder in school history, Tomjanovich also holds the second-highest career scoring average at 25.1 points per game.

In Rockets history, Tomjanovich ranks third in career points, third in career games and fourth in career rebounds. He averaged 17.4 points and 8.1 rebounds in 768 games with the Rockets. In his 11-season career, he led the Rockets in scoring average four times and rebounding average once. In his second season, Tomjanovich averaged a career-high 11.8 rebounds with 15.0 points, as the team made its debut in Houston.

During the 1972-73 season, Tomjanovich posted team-leading averages of 19.3 points and 11.6 rebounds. He earned the first of four consecutive All-Star selections in 1974, as he led Houston and ranked seventh in the NBA with a career-high 24.5 points per game. He scored a career-high 42 points against Buffalo on Jan. 13, 1974. During the 1974-75 season, Tomjanovich led Houston with 20.7 points per game and guided the Rockets to their first-ever playoff series win. He averaged a team-leading 21.6 points for the 1976-77 Rockets and helped Houston to its first division title. Tomjanovich played only 23 games the next year, as he suffered a facial fracture on Dec. 9, 1977 versus the Lakers. Tomjanovich returned to the All-Star Game in 1979, averaging 19.0 points and 7.7 rebounds with Houston in his comeback season.

After the Rockets advanced to the NBA Finals in 1981, Tomjanovich retired having spent his entire playing career with the Rockets. He retired Oct. 2, 1981, and his jersey was retired on Jan. 28, 1982.

Beginning with the 1981-82 season, Tomjanovich spent two years as a Rockets scout. He became an assistant coach in 1983 and served in that role until being named interim head coach on Feb. 18, 1992. In the first 15 games with Tomjanovich at the helm, the Rockets responded with an 11-4 record — the best start for any coach in franchise history.

Officially named the ninth head coach in Rockets history on May 20, 1992, Tomjanovich became the first coach in NBA history to guide his team from the lottery to a division title in his first full season. His coaching peers voted him The Sporting News NBA Coach of the Year in 1993. He was also named head coach of the Western Conference for the 1997 NBA All-Star Game and received NBA Coach of the Month recognition three times with Houston.

Tomjanovich posted a 503-397 (.559) regular season mark and 51-39 (.567) playoff record in 12 seasons with Houston, departing with franchise records for career wins and winning percentage. Tomjanovich resigned as Houston's coach following the 2002-03 season while undergoing successful treatment for bladder cancer. He was hired to coach the L.A. Lakers during the summer of 2004 before stepping aside later that season for health reasons. On the career coaching wins list, he ranks 25th all-time in NBA history with 525 victories.

Aside from his coaching success in the NBA, Tomjanovich coached the United States Senior National Team on two occasions. He guided the United States Men's Basketball Team to a gold medal and an undefeated record in the 2000 Summer Olympics. Prior to the Olympics, Tomjanovich led a United States team of non-NBA players to a bronze medal at the 1998 World Championship of Basketball.

Tomjanovich stands with Basketball Hall of Famers Lenny Wilkins and the late Chuck Daly as the only people to coach teams to an NBA Championship and an Olympic gold medal. He also stands as one of seven coaches in NBA history to possess 500 career wins and multiple NBA championships.

"CD"

- Assistant Coach with Rockets under four Head Coaches (1980-96)
- Named Executive Vice President of Basketball/General Manager on July 26, 1996
- Only person on coaching staffs of all four Rockets teams to advance to the NBA Finals
- Inducted into the Paris Junior College Hall of Fame in 1991
- Enshrined in the Baylor University Hall of Fame in 1998
- Entered the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame in 2001
- Inducted into the Texas Sports Hall of Fame in 2003
- Retired as General Manager after the 2006-07 season
- Honored with "Carroll Dawson Tribute Night" on April 16, 2007

Affectionately known as "CD," Carroll Dawson was honored by Houston Rockets Owner Leslie Alexander with "Carroll Dawson Tribute Night" on April 16, 2007, where a banner bearing his name was hung from the rafters of Toyota Center in honor of Dawson's 27 seasons with the Rockets organization as General Manager and as an assistant coach.

Dawson completed his 11th and final campaign as General Manager of the franchise in 2006-07. Prior to moving into the front office on July 26, 1996, Dawson worked as an assistant coach under four Rockets head coaches, aiding Del Harris from 1980-83, Bill Fitch from 1983-88, Don Chaney from 1988-92 and Rudy Tomjanovich from 1992-96.

Recognized as one of the top executives in the NBA, Dawson finished second in voting for The Sporting News NBA Executive of the Year in 2006-07. As General Manager, Dawson showed the ability to both bolster a playoff contender with veterans and acquire emerging talent as part of a youth movement. In his first few years, he made trades for Charles Barkley and Scottie Pippen to give a team led by Hakeem Olajuwon even more experience. Dawson then helped the Rockets acquire several young talents in the following years, including Cuttino Mobley, Steve Francis and Yao Ming.

In the summer of 2005, Dawson worked with Alexander to sign Yao to a maximum-value contract extension. In the summer of 2004, Dawson changed the face of the franchise by obtaining one of the NBA's top players in Tracy McGrady. The two-time scoring champion was acquired from Orlando in a seven-player deal that included Francis and Mobley.

Dawson holds the distinction of being the only person on the coaching staffs of all four Rockets teams that advanced to the NBA Finals, as Houston played for a championship in 1981, 1986, 1994 and 1995. He will always be known throughout the NBA for his work with frontcourt players and was credited with teaching Olajuwon his famous jump hook. Dawson coached many NBA All-Stars during his years in Houston, including Elvin Hayes, Moses Malone, Ralph Sampson and Tomjanovich.

Dawson's knowledge of the game was not limited to the NBA. Prior to the inaugural 1997 WNBA season, Dawson was commissioned by Alexander to help assemble the first Houston Comets team. He guided the efforts to bring Sheryl Swoopes and Cynthia Cooper to Houston, and then drafted Wanda Guyton and Janeth Arcain in the WNBA Elite Draft. Dawson was also instrumental in the selection of Tina Thompson with the first pick of the Inaugural WNBA Draft. Finally, he worked with Alexander to hire Naismith Hall of Famer and WNBA All-Decade Coach Van Chancellor. Dawson served as Chancellor's top advisor as the Comets Executive Vice President of Basketball from 1997-2006 and helped craft the four-time WNBA Champions (1997-2000).

A native Texan, Dawson hails from Alba, a town with a population of 200 that sits about 75 miles east of Dallas. As a 6-foot-5 high school center, he led Alba High School to a 44-3 record as a senior. He then went on to win Junior College All-America honors at Paris Junior College (Texas) under Head Coach Boyd Converse. After two seasons at Paris, Dawson moved on to Baylor University, where he led Bill Henderson's Baylor Bears in scoring and rebounding in each of his two seasons. In 1960, he averaged 16.4 points as a senior to earn All-Southwest Conference honors.

In 1963, he returned to Baylor as an assistant to Head Coach Bill Menefee. He later succeeded Menefee as head coach in 1973, remaining in that position for more than three seasons. After spending two years as a scout for the Dallas Cowboys at the call of executive Gil Brandt, Dawson started a career as a salesman for Converse Shoe Company.

Dawson has been honored with induction into the Paris Junior College Hall of Fame in 1991, the Baylor University Hall of Fame in 1998, the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches Hall of Fame in 2001, and the Texas Sports Hall of Fame in 2003. He was also named Mr. Sportsman 2005 by Interfaith Charities in Houston. In 2010, Dawson was honored as a Baylor Basketball Legend by the 'B' Association. In addition, he was named the incoming President of the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.

Remaining with the Rockets as a Senior Consultant, Dawson resides in Houston with his wife, Sharon. Sharon has a daughter, Elizabeth, and a son, Michael.

NBA Personnel Facts

Active List
Each team is required to maintain 12 players on its Active List, and to have a minimum of eight players dressed and able to participate in all preseason and regular season games or nine players for playoff games. A team may periodically carry 11 players on its Active List, but for no more than two consecutive weeks at a time. Each team is responsible for delivering the team's Active List to the Official Scorer prior to each game.

Inactive List
A team may carry a maximum of three players on its Inactive List (subject to hardship rules). Each team is required to maintain one player on its Inactive List for all regular season games. A team may periodically carry zero players on its Inactive List, but for no more than two consecutive weeks at a time. Players may move freely between the Active List and the Inactive List.

10-Day Contract
A player can be signed to a 10-Day contract beginning on Jan. 5 or the next business day if Jan. 5 is not a business day. No team may be a party at any time to more 10-Day contracts than the number of players on its Inactive List. Players signed to 10-Day contracts can be placed on either the Active List or the Inactive List.

NBA D-League Assignment
Any player who is assigned by his team to the NBA D-League must be placed and maintained on his NBA team's Inactive List for the duration of his D-League assignment.

Waivers
From Aug. 15 to the end of the regular season, clubs may claim waived players within 48 hours after notice. Players waived any other time may be claimed within 10 days. If no teams claim the waived player, he becomes a free agent. If more than one club claims a waived player, the one with the lesser record at that time claims the player.

Guaranteed Contract Date
On Jan. 10 of the regular season, all player contracts become guaranteed for the remainder of the season.

Trading Deadline
The trading deadline is Feb. 24, 2011 at 2 p.m. (CT). From that point to the end of the regular season, player additions must be made through the waiver procedure or by signing free agents.
